OMAHA FIRM GETS CONTRACT

WIESE COMPANY IS GIVEN WORK

Capitol Commission Accepts Bid of Omaha Concern for First Section of Superstructure of New Capitol.

ITS BID FOR JOB IS $1,982,847.03

Items Outside of Wiese Contract Bring Total Cost of First Part to $2,246,763,03 —Saving of $307,000.

The state capitol commission announced at noon Friday that the contract for the construction of the first section of the superstructure for thenew capitol would be awarded to J. H. Wiese company of Omaha, the price to be $1,982,847.03, this including the stone work upon which this firm did not bid. The contract is to provide, however, that the builder is to use Bedford, Indiana, buff limestone, which is to be supplied by the Henry Struble Cut Stone company of Chicago, whose bid on this item was $633,739.

The contract to the Wiese company does not include elevator work, which is awarded to the Otis Elevator company, Omaha, for $4,000; plumbing, heating and ventilating, which goes to the Robert Parks Plumbing & Heating company of Omaha on its bid of $231,497 and the electrical work, which is awarded to W. G. Cornell company of Chicago for $48,419. This makes the total cost of this section of the superstructure $2,246,763.03, and includes supervision of all work except elevator, plumbing, heating and ventilating and electrical.

Total Cost $2,300,000.

To the contract price as above given should be added approximately $50,000 for dressed granite in place. No bids were received for this item and the commission will be compelled to do the best that it can on it. The total cost of the section will therefore be approximately $2,800,000, including supervision. The lowest bid received for supervision alone was $110,000.

At the June opening of bids the total of the low bids on the several items was $2,496,795, which did not include supervision. Acding $110,000 for this service the total would have been $2,606,795, so the net saving in this section through readvertising is approximately $307,000. At this rate it is considered that the saving on the entire structure will amount to over $770,000.

The commission was in session all Thursday afternoon and Friday forenoon, the announcement that a contract had been agreed upon being made by Governor McKelvie at noon Friday. It was agreed Thursday afternoon that Buff Bedford stone should be used rather than the more expensive Missouri granite. It also became quite well understood before the session closed that the Wiese company would land the contract. This firm had bid $1,431,000 on all of the work except cut stone, elevator work, plumbing, heating and ventilating, facing stone in rough blocks, and electrical work. It was this bid on which the contract was based, the commission providing that the company should accept the Struble bid for the stone work, supervising that and all other trades except elevators, electrical, plumbing, heating and ventilating.

More Expensive Stone.

The lowest individual bid for all of the work, including supervision, at the opening Thursday was from Allied Contractors, Omaha, which was $2,465,000. The only other bid for all of the work was from John Gill & Sons and amounted to $2,699,500. It, however, provided for the use of Ozark granite, which is a more expensive stone than the Bedford variety, which is to be used.

Some details of the contract remain yet to be worked out, such as the time for beginning the work and the date of its completion. The commission will also have to do with the letting of the subcontracts for the various trades and it was stated by Governor McKelvie that announcement as to what firms are to have the various jobs would be made within a short time.

The part of the building for which contract is now being let surrounds the old capitol, covering the foundation which is now being put down. The north and south wings are to be built first, leaving openings on the east and west to permit tearing down the old building and constructing the central portion and tower after the present structure has been vacated and removed. The state offices will be moved into the new wings immediately after their construction, when the contract will be let for removing the old capitol and building the center portion and tower.

Negro Said to Be 119 Years Old, Dead

TROY, Ala., July 21. — Jim Chapman, negro, said to be 119 years of age, died at his home near Spring Hills, south of Troy, Tuesday, according to reports reaching here.

"Uncle Jim," as he was familarly known, was reared as a slave, being brought to this country from Africa.

He had never worn a pair of shoes or smoked tobacco in his life.

RANDALL HIGH AGAIN

Gubernatorial Teeterboard Boosts Him Above McMullen in Latest Count of Votes for Governor.

UPSETS ON TWO OTHER OFFICES

Stebbins 700 in Lead for Treasurer, and Spillman for Attorney General—McDonald Gains.

By revising its figures and adding the vote reported from a dozen more precincts, the Associated Press bureau handling Nebraska election returns place C. H. Randall once more in the lead Friday afternoon, for the republican gubernatorial nomination.

Randall is now credited with a plurality of 325 over Adam McMullen in the totals compiled for 1,873 precincts. Previous to this tabulation, McMullen had been leading by 211.

There are only 40 more precincts to report their vote on governor. Totals for the candidates now stand.

Some Other Reversals.

Apparent overturns have also taken place on two other state offices, treasurer and attorney general. It now seems probable that W. M. Sebbins of Gothenburg will win the republican nomination for treasurer, instead of C. D. Robinson, who appeared to have a cinch on it Thursday. For attorney general, O. S. Spillman of Pierce looks like a winner over W. C. Dorsey of Lincoln, who was 2,000 ahead on previous figures.

The democratic race for attorney general is also ecombing very close, with K. W. McDonald of Bridgeport

Smith to Run As Independent In Sixth District

John A. Smith of Thedford called Friday upon Secretary of State Amsberry and announced his intention of running as an independent candidate for congress i nthe Sixth district Mr. Smith stated that he has a petition signed by 1,000 voters, asking that his name be placed on the ballots and that it will be filed. Under the law this must be on file at least thirty days before the election. The republican candidate in the Sixth district is Robert Simmons of Scottsbluff and the democratic candidate is C. W. Beal of Custer.

For a long time W. M. Stebbins of Gothenburg made a practice of running as an independent candidate for congress in this district, and Mr. Smith has apparently succeeded him.

Anness Sends His Congratulations

Writing on a legislative letterhead of the session of 1911, in which he served as a house member, Wilber W. Anness of Dunbar has communicated his best wishes to Walter L. Anderson of Lincoln, his successful rival for the republican congressional nomination.

"You rubbed me pretty hard in a few places and treated me rough once or twice, along the battle trail, but so far I have been unable to discover any sore spots," the letter says.

"Give my love to the other boys who lost out—to Thorpe and Barrows and Shika" he adds.

STRIKERS CALL RAIL OFFICIALS' CLAIMS ABSURD

Say Daily Statements of Men Employed Make Huge Total.

Assert Company Using No Discrimination in Hiring Guards.

Denial that any of the strikers are returning to their jobs with the railroads was made by N. Brocker, chairman of the Lincoln strike committee Friday. "The men are standing firm," said Mr. Brocker, "and do not show any signs of a break, all answering to roll except those excused or on picket duty."

In a statement given to The Star, Mr. Brocker calls the claims by railroad officials that they are employing many men for the shops as absurd, and says that if they have hired all the men they have claimed each day, the force would now be larger than at peak times.

Mr. Brocker's statement follows.

"Railway officials are giving out statements of men being employed for the various shops and divisions in Nebraska. The absurd part of the claims is that if they have employed all the men they claim to have employed each day the force would now be larger than was employed during the peak of the demand in the various Nebraska shops and divisions.

"Ther eare some guards being employed—these men being picked up from the various assembling points of men tramping the country in search of employment, and those tramping the country to avoid finding employment.

"The men employed as guards refuse to remain long in one place so they are transferred from point to point with the hope by the company officials that the impression will get out that men for actual service are being employed.

"Fifteen men were unloaded at Havelock the other evening, each one wearing a star. These men had quit the shops at Omaha and Sioux City as guards, and were transferred by the company to Havelock.

"The company officials seem to make no discrimination when it come to employing guards. No attention is paid to character, residence or previous reputation. We have rather definite information that undesirable characters have entered the service of the company as guards. Of course these guards are receiving more money as wages than the strikers are demanding.

Ranks Are Unbroken.

"Company officials, and those aiding them, are persistently circulating the report that men are going back to work. Our roll calls show this statement to be absolutely false. The men are not returning to the shops.

"Some of the men who have been retired as pensioners have been notified to return to the shops as strikebreakers or else lose their pensions. There have been one or two thus forced to return.

"Representatives of the railway companies have been out in the country trying to induce farm boys and farmers to become strikebreakers. In quite a few instances these railway representatives have been rudely told to "get off the farm."

"Justice, though sometimes delayed for a time, must and will prevail. The men will win this strike, for the reason that they are sticking to a man."

Arrest One In Connection With Carson Shooting

(Special to The Star)

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., July 21.—Mart Youngstrom was arrested last night by Federal Prohibition Officer Tom Carroll and State Agent Karl Schmitt, in connection with the shooting of Walter Carson, alleged bootlegger. Carson is lying in a local hospital, seriously, and perhaps fatally, wounded.

One party of alleged booze runners overtook a second group on the road near Aida, at night, and a gun battle ensued, it is claimed, for possession of the cargo, which was reported to be on its way from Columbus to North Platte. The driver, D. Poor, was arrested by Marshal Phillips of Clarks, who took possession of the car and its contents.

This consignment consisted of 2,000 pints of bottled beer, unlabeled, said to contain 7 per cent alcohol.

Officials are investigating to discover whether a wholesale traffic in beer has been going on in this part of the state.

MAKE READY TO OPEN MINES OF KEYSTONE STATE

Troops On Way Or Soon Will Leave For Pittsburgh District.

Miners Adopt Watchful Waiting Policy While Preparations Being Made.

(International News Service.)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 21.—Western Pennsylvania coal operators today set about to re-open their bituminous mines and produce coal. From one end of the state to the other every armory was bristling with excitement and activity. Troops were either leaving or preparing to leave immediately for the coal region within a radius of 150 miles of Pittsburgh. Some troops were already on their way this morning. By tomorrow night the major part of the 28th division will be under arms.

A part of it will be sent to the western counties; the rest will start for camp and be held in reserve there.

Coal will not be dug before the middle of next week at the earliest. Mines that have been idle three months or more must be cleared of debris and put into shape. Operators and miners agree on one point at least: That it will take from three days to three weeks to put the mines in shape.

The United Mine Workers, with their headquarters in Pittsburgh, are watchfully awaiting developments. Leaders say that when non-union diggers go into the mines the pumpers and other union help left to protect the workings from flooding and explosions, will be called out at once.

One of the first moves toward the reopening of the mines is the announcement by the Pittsburgh Coal company, largest bituminous operator in the country that it will immediately begin evicting 400 miners' families at Mountour Mine No. 4, Hill station, Washington county. The evictions will make 1,000 persons homeless and officials of district No. 5, United Mine Workers, say they will set up a tent colony.

Situation In Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 21.—An early resumption of coal mining in all Kansas mines was forecast by coal operators here today. No troops will be needed for protection, it was stated.

Kansas mines under the protection of the industrial court law, have been producing 50 per cent of the normal coal output during the strike and there has been no acute coal shortage in the district.

Troops have not been needed to protect the men working in the strip pits and deep shafts in Kansas, and each week the number of men at work has shown a steady increase.

Judge John H. Crawford, of the Kansas industrial court, has been making a survey of the Kansas coal district and has been conferring with operators regarding a resumption of work in mines which have not yet been opened. The situation, it is stated, is favorable for full operation.

No definite announcements have been made as to opening mines in Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, which have closed down since the strike.

Thorpe Expended $791.97 In His Congressional Race

R. H. Thorpe, who captured the republican nomination for congress for the short term in the First district, had the heaviest expense account of any candidate who has thus far filed with the secretary of state. The total is $791.97, and this does not include pay or expenses for a band which came over from Shenandoah, Iowa, to campaign for him. He says that these were donated. It does, however, include $25 paid for a fife and drum corps in Lincoln and $75 paid for the use of the auditorium for a final meeting.

Others to file expense accounts were James Pearson, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, $38.40; Frank Mills, democratic candidate for congress in the First district, $80; P. A. Barrows, republican for congress in First district, $79.29; Nathan Bernstein, republican for congress in the Second district, $365.50; W. L. Gaston, republican for secretary of state, $248.50; Edgar Howard, democrat and progressive for congress in Third district, nothing; W. C. Parriott, democrat for congress, short term, First district, nothing.

Police Blame Professional Gang for Breaking Into Three Safes, Robbing Six Stores and Stealing Three Automobiles.

GET BIG LOOT FROM A CLOTHING STORE

Perkins-Huffman Furniture Store Loses $100 In Cash —Anderson Believes Burglars Carried Away Loot in Stolen Cars.

With three safes broken open, six buildings robbed and three automobiles stolen, Lincoln Thursday night experienced a continuance of the crime wave which struck the city Wednesday night. Friday morning the police were investigating the following robberies:

Perkins-Huffman Furniture company, 1112-14 O street, two safes broken open and $100 in cash taken.

Nebraska Retail Hardware association, 415 Little building, safe broken open, nothing taken, as only records were kept there.

Economy Clothing store, Samuel Levy, proprietor, 1725 O street, merchandise to the estimated value of $3,000 stolen.

Garage of Frank J. Stout, 2943 Garfield street, broken into and five gallons of gas, a quantity of oil, automobile tools, a rain coat and a top coat with a shrine pin stolen.

FOUR BADLY HURT IN CAR ACCIDENT

Automobile Driven by Young Woman Crashes Into a Bank.

Woman Sustains Broken Jaw and Young Man Has Leg Broken.

(Special to The Star)

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., July 21—Four members of a party of twelve young people residing in Plattsmouth on their way to attend the American legion dance at Brown's park were seriously injured, and the remainder with the exception of one young man, badly bruised Thursday night shortly before 10 o'clock when the car, a seven-passenger Hudson, driven by Miss Harriet Peabody, crashed into the east bank of a highway near a railroad crossing about a mile and a half north of Wyoming. The car was a complete wreck and the injured were picked up and brought to this city for medical treatment by Nebraska City people returning from the band concert at Union.

Persons returning from Union say the car, traveling at a high rate of speed, passed them on the way to this city and that when the driver reached the turn near the railroad crossing she evidently did not know of its presence and continued east, crashing into the bank.

S. P. Cresap and J. C. Thygeson were the first to reach the scene of the accident and brought the injured to the Wilson hospital and to A. A. Ginn's office for treatment.

At the hospital where the most seriously injured were taken it was learned that Miss Harriet Peabody was driving the car; that she was not familiar with the highway and did not know that the road turned south at the point.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Sprecher of Plattsmouth were the chaperones of the party and both were severely injured. Mrs. Sprecher suffered a broken jaw and a badly injured leg. Charles Eggenberger had his right leg broken and several body cuts. Miss Peabody had a deep cut on her forehead. Three other members of the party suffered deep cuts on the legs and on the upper parts of their bodies. Mrs. Sprecher and Eggenberger will be confined to the hospital for some time.

Five members of the auto party escaped with minor cuts and bruises and will return home Friday.

It is said that the brake was not working at the time of the accident.

RESTRAINED FROM ISSUING WARRANT

Sheriff Miller Wins First Round in Clash With Hyers.

Law Enforcement Officers Tangle Over McGlothlen Arrest.

District Judge W. M. Morning Friday afternoon granted an injunction on the application of Sheriff Ira Miller, restraining J. S. Baer, clerk of the district court from issuing warrant to State Sheriff Gus Hyers for the arrest of Harold B. McGlothlen, who is now serving a year's sentence in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for auto stealing.

State Sheriff Hyers asked the district court clerk, Friday morning, to issue warrants for him for McGlothlen's arrest. Hyers declared to newspaper men that he would send the warrants to the federal prison warden, who would notify officers here when McGlothlen will be released from the federal prison. In other words, the warrants would be held by the warden and thus any possibility of McGlothlen's being released without officers her ebeing notified prevented.

McGolthlen was sentenced to the federal penitentiary from here last February. He was indicted by the Lancaster county grand jury on two indictments, one of which contains three counts charging him with stealing three automobiles and the second indictment charges him with breaking out of the Lancaster county jail, on August 31, last. Warrants for his arrest on these indictments are now in the hands of the county sheriff. McGlothlen has several months yet to serve in the federal prison.

Sheriff Miller strenuously objected to warrants being issued to the state sheriff. Miller evidently misunderstood the attitude of the state sheriff who said he was merely taking a precautionary move.

District Court Clerk Baer said he was notified by the county attorney, to issue warrants to Hyers. Still Sheriff Miller objected, but Mr. Baer, acting upon the county attorney's authority, said he would issue the warrants to Hyers and let the two sheriffs "fight it out between themselves."

SAYS GUARDSMEN ARE NOT NEEDED

Adjutant General Paul Finds Situation at Falls City Quiet.

Adjutant General H. J. Paul returned Thursday evening from Falls City where he went to look over the strike situation. He reports that everything is quiet, that he srikers are a high class of citizens and are interested in the enforcement of the law. There is no reason to believe that the Nebraska national guard will be sent to Falls City or any other community in the state, if present conditions continue, according to General Paul.

"Conditions are very good at Falls City," said the adjutant general. "The strikers are practically unanimous in wanting the law upheld. Ninety-nine per cent of the union men do not approve and will not sanction any disturbance on their part. We have no anticipation of sending the guard to any point on strike duty."

The encampment at Capital Beach July 25 and 26 is purely a pleasure proposition and nothing to do with the railway strike situation, General Paul stated. It was arranged for the benefit of the men, and will feature a war-time spectacle. No training of any kind will be done.

Making Search For Sea Pirates

MIAMI, Fla., July 21.—Coast guards were searching today for motorboat pirates who late yesterday held up the converted schooner William H. Albury, shot her master, Capt. Edgecomb, dead and then fled.

The motorboat containing the pirates was said to to have borne the name Falcon.

The Albury, according to harbor authorities, has been engaged in running liquor between Florida Keys and the British Bahamas.

The holdup was said to have taken place off Gun Key, near this port.

LETTER TO CITIZENS

General Manager Thiehoff of Burlington Lines West Addresses Communication to Five Havelock Men on the Strike Situation.

RENEWS CLAIM OF LACK OF PROTECTION

Says Company Was Contemplating Additions to Havelock Shops But Will Not Go Ahead With Plans at Present.

An intimation that the Burlington road will not increase or enlarge its Havelock shops and is now "looking around" for a new location for them, is contained in a letter sent Thursday afternoon to five Havelock business and professional men by W. F. Thiehoff, general manager of the lines west.

The reason suggested for the possible curtailment of railroad activity in the shop town, is the claim of the Burlington officials that the company's property and employes are not furnished sufficient protection by the authorities of Havelock whom they list as belonging to or having sympathy with the strikers.

Mr. Thiehoff's letter is of some length and is addressed to V. F. Hoffman, banker, H. F. Hecht, O. I. Hitchcock, banker, W. R Johnson and Rev. D. B. O'Connor. He reviews the history of the strike, outlining that the strike is in protest against the labor board's rulings and not against any act of the railroad. He points out that the Burlington is probably the largest tax payer in Havelock and in Lancaster county and declares it is his duty as an officer of that company to address the citizens of Havelock concerning the strike situation and the attitude of the former employes and citizens during the present crisis.

Quotes Rates of Pay.

He quotes the figures on rates of pay as several times published, which include the advance during war time and the subsequent decrease and also quotes the letter sent by Hale Holden, president of the Burlington to each striker, outlining the company's position and warning all striking men that unless they returned to work on July 10, they would not hold their seniority rights.

"A large number of former employes at Havelock did not avail themselves of this privilege and as a result ceased on that date to have any claim of any kind or character as employes." With this statement he dismisses the possible return of the strikers with full seniority rights.

The two final paragraphs of the letter state, with considerable frankness the complaints of the Burlington and the possible steps the road will take if the Havelock shops are not protected by the local authorities. Mr. Thiehoff ridicules the appointments of strikers as police or "peace officers."

Planned Enlargement.

"Would you continue your business under similar conditions or would you look around for a more favorable location" is the sentence that reveals the threat the road holds out to the Havelock people. He states that the Burlington had contemplated enlargement of the Havelock shops this year, but he asks the men he addresses, whether they would make additional investments in their businesses if they were to be accorded the same treatment the Burlington has received.

SITUATION IS WORSE

Acting on Orders Received From President Harding, Chairman B. W. Hooper is On Way to Washington to Discuss Rail Strike.

CABINET TAKES UP STRIKE SITUATION

If Coal Operators Fail to Deliver Goods Seizure of Mines by Government One of Emergency Measures President Has In Mind.

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 21.—Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the United States railroad labor board left Chicago this afternoon shortly before 2 o'clock for Washington to confer with President Harding on the rail strike situation.

He had nothing to say prior to his departure.

Called By Harding

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 21.—President Harding today telephoned a summons to Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the American railway labor board at Chicago to come to Washington for a conference on the increasingly serious railway strike question.

This step was decided on at a lengthy cabinet meeting which was devoted entirely to discussion of the industrial situation.

The probability of a new move was revealed today after the president had been informed by Chairman Cummins and Senators Watson of Indiana and Kellogg of Minnesota of the senate interstate commerce committee that the three principal points at issue in the strike were restoration of the seniority and of pension rights of the strikers and setting up a national board of adjustment as provided in the transportation act now in force.

The latter was received as a new factor by the president, who was said to have been unadvised that this was a strong point at issue. Chairman Hooper, it was said, had not informed the president that the national board question was prominently involved although labor leaders have informed senators that it was being pressed as a condition precedent to return of the strikers to work.

On this question the executives were reported to be adamant.

Is Growing Worse.

WASHINGTON, July 21—Confronted with an industrial situation that is hourly growing worse, President Harding met with his cabinet again today for a thorough discussion of governmental relief agencies.

It was the fourth cabinet session in two weeks, devoted entirely to seeking ways and means of ending the double menace of the coal and rail strikes.

Reports of curtailed operations, slow down of industry and troop movements in many parts of the country were brought to the white house by the cabinet members.

Although the strikes are recognized as separate problems and are being dealt with accordingly, it is nevertheless realized that for all practical purposes they are interdependent on each other and both must be settled

Officers Find Alleged Pirate Craft at Miami

MIAMI, Fla., July 21.—The alleged pirate craft which yesterday held up the 35-foot auxiliary schooner William H. Albury, resulting in the murder of the Albury's master, Captain Edgecomb, at Gun Key, was found today and a search was started for the men who are believed to have occupied her.

The boat was found at the P. and O. dock here by the chief of the Miami police department. An exploded .44 calibre cartridge was found in the boat.

Hands That Rock Cradle Keep Wolf From Door of Shop Craft Union Homes While Men on Nation Wide Strike

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, July 21.—When the railway shopmen struck their wives went to work.

Investigation today in the great shop centers at Burnside, South Chicago and Pullman revealed that in many cases the hand that rocks the cradle has been turned to the task of earning dollars.

Women, who of necessity, remain at home have inaugurated a rigid campaign of retrenchment.

"Stick by our men!" is the community slogan.

Into the tall office buildings of Chicago hordes of these hardy, foreign-born women are going as scrub women; into the great Union Stock Yards as meat packers and soap makers, into the laundries as wash women—into the factories of every description.

Mrs. Helen Petkewicz, storekeeper of Burnside, whose husband is a striker, epitomized the community sentiment thus:

Women Earning Money.

"What is there for us women to do but work? Nearly every family has a raft of kids. They can't starve. Some one has got to earn money—and the women are going out and doing it."

The butcher, the baker and the grocer, are extending credit to all except known "dead beats," she said and few families have as yet felt the pinch of privation.

But all the women can't work. Her neighbor, Mrs Rosie Toczylowski, for instance. Mrs. Toczylowski has for kiddies, Josie, 10; Benny, 7; Lillian, 6, and Helen, 4. But like others of the stay-at-home mothers, she can't work—there is another kiddie coming.

"I don't know what I will do," said the little mother, dubiously. "I no like strike. But I no like my husband be a scab."

"But," she was asked, "how do you manage to eat"

"Everything on tick," she smiled. "My credit good. I always pay my bills somehow."

Only once has she been able to save money—"When Mister McAdoo ran the railroads."

"McAdoo Fine Man."

"Mister McAdoo he fine man," she asserted, warmly. "He give my husband more pay than he got any time during the twelve years he work at the railroad shops.

"I thought at that time I could see my children like the American children—nice clothes, good education, all that. I dunno now.

"Mister McAdoo go. My husband get cut, then another cut. Too many cuts. Can't do much on $130 a month. Then they lay my husband off six week. They did that to all other men, too. They knew a strike was coming. I no go anywhere. I never saw picture show. Joshie she go to the 10-cent show with the American kids—sometimes. I have no heart to keep her home."

The cost of living—had Mrs. Toczylowski noticed any decline?

Yes, in March, but prices now are as hight as ever, she said. Her rent is still $16 a month. It takes a month to pay the butcher and grocer. Then there is $3 a month for the gas bill, and an occasional dress for Josie, shoes for the family, albeit, Benny was contentedly romping in the yard in his bare feet; payments on her husband's insurance policy, union due, etc., etc., more than enough to eat up the family pay check.

Striker Tells His Story.

As Mrs. Toczylowski talked a striker, Pete Traybsa, broke in with this remark:

"I'll tell you what my wife did. She's an American girl. She said: 'I'm going home to my folks. You, Pete, stay on strike. Your life is worth more to me than your job.'"

Later, Joseph Bernatowicz, prominent local union leader and speaker of six languages, said:

"We've got to give the women credit. They're sticking. They're going to hold a big mass meeting in Pullman today. My hats off to them."

At the Pullman Trust & Savings trink, the cashier, D. R. Bryant said:

"The women who by the way, usually do the banking are not drawing out their money. They haven't got to that point yet. They are retrenching hard. They must have neat sums under the mattresses. Usually they make heavy deposits—$100 and $150 at a time. I don't believe some families are eating much. In Pullman alone one bakery sold 500 loaves of bread less last week than the previous week. Business is bad in cigar stores, barber shops and movie shows."

As the writer left the bank two buxom women were engaged in the business of kissing a couple of hastily-washed kiddie good bye. The women took a car for the city where in the tall sky scrappers women scrub floors in the dead of the night while the rest of the world sleeps.

Wants a Divorce—Emma L. K. Runge filed a petition in district court here Friday for divorce from Herman Runge. They were married in Chicago, thirty-four years ago, and have four children, all grown, except one. Mrs. Runge declares her husband has been guilty to extreme cruelty to such an extent that it is utterly impossible for her to live with him any longer.

Settles Claim—Harry N. Towne has settled the claim filed against him by Henry Groth, guardian of Victor Groth, whom Mr. Towne struck with an automobile at Ninth and O streets in March, by paying Mr. Groth damages and assuming the hospital bills, doctor bills and other expenses growing out of the accident.

Stine to Appeal—Isaac A. Stine has filed a notice in district court here that he intends to appeal to the supreme court from the judgment obtained against him by Miss Gertrude Henoch, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Miss Henoch was awarded a verdict for $8,000, which Judge Fred Shepherd reduced to $4,000. She brought suit for $15,000, alleging breach of promise.

Owens Under Arrest— George Owens, ordered committed to the Lancaster county jail for alleged contempt of court, is under arrest in Seward, according to Sheriff Ira Miller. Owens was ordered on March 10 to pay $15 by June 1 for the support of his child. He was awarded a decree of divorce several months ago on grounds of cruelty and custody of their child was given to a Mrs. Ben Woods, while Owens was ordered to pay her for the child's maintenance. He is alleged to have abandoned the child. The order of commitment requires Owens to be confined in jail until he complies with the order of the court.

Decree to Wife—Dora C. Charlton has been awarded a decree of divorce from Byron C. Charlton by District Judge W. M. Morning. She was also awarded custody of three of their four children. The Charltons were married in 1900. They lived on a farm near Roca until about five years ago, when they came to Lincoln. Mrs. Charlton returned to Roca a few weeks ago. She claimed her husband has become infatuated with another woman and had absented himself from home for long periods of time. He has been on a ranch in Wyoming for the past three years. They made a property settlement out of court.

Fined for Assault—Charles F. Holcomb paid a fine of $1 and costs, a total of $7.30 in Justice Stevens' court Friday morning, following his plea of guilty to a complaint charging assault and battery on July 15, sworn out against him by Robert E. Chapin.

Repairing Church. — Owing to the repair work being done on the Vine Congregational church all services will be discontinued for the remainder of July with the exception of the primary department which will have Sunday school services at the church as usual.

Congratulate Matzen.—State Superintendent John N. Matzen Friday morning received a telegram from Martha L. Powell of Omaha, one of the candidates for superintendent, congratulating him upon his success. Miss Powell said: "Congratulations upon your fine plurality. It was a fine showing."

Pleads Not Guilty—Irvin Nelson entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned in Justice Hawes court at 5 p. m. Thursday on a complaint 19 with a married woman. Justice charging him with adultery on July 19 with a married woman. Justice Hawes set the date of the hearing for July 25, at 9 a. m., and placed Nelson under $500 bond.

Refuses to Register Bonds.—State Auditor Marsh has refused to register $4,000 of bonds of school district No. 32, Washington county, because of defective history. It is said that the petition was insufficient in that it did not state the amount of the proposed issue. Futhermore, the published notice of election did not state the exact proposition to be voted upon. A new election will be necessary before the bonds can be registered.

Seven Fined For Speeding.—Seven speeders, all arrested by Officer Gross, entered pleas of guilty in police court Friday morning and were each fined $5 and costs, or $9.70. They were H. B. Ridnaus, 719 P street, C. T. Lovelace, 1014 Pine street, C. E. Robbins, 221 South Eleventh street, G. Zimmer, 1830 L street M. S. Freeman 1631 A street and J. J. Jones and R. E. Dykes of the Lord Auto company.

Rippy Bound Over—John H. Rippy was bound over to the district court by Justice Hawes Friday morning, at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing on the complaint charging Rippy with contributing to the delinquency of a minor on July 13. Rippy had pleaded not guilty when arraigned July 14. According to the complaint, Rippy contributed to the delinquency of Esther Magdanz, a girl under 18 years of age.

Reinstates Divorce Suit.—Ruth The Carrigans were married in Lin- district court here for divorce from Glenn Carrigan. She first filed the petition on June 1 and dismissed it nine days later, she and her husband having reconciled their differences. The reconcilliation was very short, however and now she has been granted permission to re-instate her case. The Carrigans were married in Lincoln, October 1, 1919 and have one child. She charged her husband with cruelty.

Appeal From Judgment.—George A. Alcorn and the Globe Indemnity company have appealed to the supreme court from a judgment entered against them and in favor of Joel H Wright, Jr., in the district court of Douglas county by Judge Troupe for $3,724.66, which was the full amount sued for with interest. The defendant Alcorn is a building contractor, who took a contract to construct a residence for Wright, the Globe company furnishing a bond, guaranteeing that the contractor would pay all material and labor bills. It was claimed that not all of these bils were paid and that the liens were filed against the property in the amount sued for, the plaintiff being required to pay them. The defendant contractor denied that he had failed to carry out his part of the contract and claimed that there was $650 due him for supervision and extras.

W. J. BRYAN TO STUMP STATE IN FALL CAMPAIGN

Commoner Wires That He Is Going to Help Democratic Nominees.

C. W. Bryan Replies to Congratulatory Message From Butler.

W. J. Bryan will come to Nebraska in the fall to take part in the campaign for election of democratic nominees. It is expected he will devote ten days or more to his former home state. He has sent the following telegram from Leavenworth, Kas., to his brother, C. W. Bryan, democratic nominee for governor:

"Hearty congratulations. Will help in October."

Dan Butler of Omaha, defeated gubernatorial candidate in the primary, has pledged his support to the winner in this message:

'Congratulations. Too much harmony. However, I still have my coal yard. Success to you."

In reply, C. W. Bryan wired to Butler as follows:

'Sincerely appreciate your telegram of congratulation. You made a good fight and you are a good loser, I also will have a coal yard, but hope to dispose of it January 1. I will need lots of help and I know I can count on you."

Another message of congratulation came to Candidate Bryan from his son, Silus M. Bryan, of Minneapolis, who is the democratic nominee for lieutenant governor in Minnesota.

TELLS GRADUATES SOCIETY EXPECTS SACRIFICIAL LIFE

Sense of Obligation Should Be Felt Above Glow of Self Esteem.

Dr. Wilkinson Says 6,000 Years of Effort Represented in Gifts of Education.

"The Social Obligation" was the subject of the address delivered Friday morning, July 21, by Dr. Herbert S. Wilkinson, pastor of Grace Methodist church at the midsummer commencement of Nebraska Wesleyan university. The exercises were held in the First Methodist Episcopal church of University Place.

Dr. Wilkinson said: "We are a successful people. We live in the most successful country. Asia may be belated, Europe decadent, but westward the 'star of empire made its way'; and westward the star of empire came to stay. We are the latest and best arrivals on the stage of action. We are successful and proud of our success.

"This is the day when the successful man is heralded as the supreme product of the age. Nor does the successful man thrice refuse the kingly homage we are wont to offer. Out of this self regard emerges such notions of independence of others that the social welfare is apt to suffer. It is necessary, therefore, in the interests of life that over and above this apotheosis of success we should feel the obligation of the individual to society; that we should recognize ourselves to be members of a living organism whose totality of being and whose welfare cannot be desregarded by any without suffering to all.

Factors of Individual Success

"What are the factors which contribute to success. When the successful man appears how is he to be accounted for?

"First of all by his endowment. The capital stock with which he began life. A sound healthy body, a clear brain, good blood, good family connections, capacity for development. These contribute to success.

"But they give no warrant for boasting. I am glad that I was born under the American flag; that I breathed the air of the freest country under the sun. But this was not the result of my forethought. I had nothing to do with it, whatever.

"I am glad for a sound physique; glad my hands are not crooked nor my feet deformed. But these are gifts of society through society and occasions for gratitude rather than boasting. Any success which is conditioned upon those things is a gift which I have received from society.

"Second is the factor of opportunity. This grows out of the civilization into which a man comes. But this, too, gives no occasion for boasting. Society has been toiling a long time to prepare conditions of and the field for opportunity. We inherit the products of others' struggle. We are the heirs of all the ages in the foremost files of time.

"How perfect are the facilities for transportation. Our tables are set with the gifts of distant places. Our clothing comes from far lands. Whence came free thought, free speech, a free school and a free church? Upon the shoulders of heroic generations who wrenched the charters from the hands of tyranny.

"The third factor in success is fidelity. The use of endowment and opportunity. The vigilant watchfulness with which our heritage has been guarded. The courage, devotion, tirelessness with which a man has flung upon his tasks—these are the only things for which a successful man may assume credit.

Our Obligations to Society

"Hence the sense of obligation should be felt above the glow of self esteem. Society has its claims upon every man's success. This obligation the scholar is quick to recognize. Society has given you opportunity for study, food, ships and clothing, physicians, laws to protect.

"And society has furnished you matter and method of study. The modern school is a product. Society has travelled long to give modern education. Society has furnished the text books. Every page of mathematics has a story and a romance. Six thousand years of effort are represented in the gifts which education flings into our lap.

"Society expects in return a sacrificial life. She expects you to help in the conservation of her toil. She expects you to put yuor full nature into her organized life. Government is a sacred trust. The state is the organized will of society. It is expected of every citizen that whatever of high purpose, resolute endeavor, militant righteousness, he may possess, shall be expressed in the state's organized life.

"Democracy is not the creature of a day. It is the climax of the long ago struggle of brave and heroic souls. The ballot in the hands of the common man—what does it represent? You see the dream of the patriots of Greece, the fervent longing of the Gracchi, the crimson field of Marston Moor and Bunker Hill. Who sells his vote should never vote again. In a God given democracy his is a capital crime.

"The school is the organized intellect of society. Free thought is blood bought. Man has not always been permitted to think. But wisdom has come with the years. We have come to new faith in the human mind and a new sense of the impregnability of truth. Government will not perish if men are taught to think.

The Schools Support Religion

"Religion will not perish from the earth if man is free to think; but every false theology, every irrational system, every doctrine supported by credulity rather than by rational faith will be conducted out and ought to be conducted out. The school stands for the emancipated intellect and expects to stand for it.

"The church is the organized heart life of society. It stands for the authority of the moral ideal. It stands for the virtues which make for permanency and the affections which make every hour rich with love and jewel ever moment with a joy. In the darkest hours of the world's history the light of learning and of moral purpose was kept burning upon her altars.

"And what may you bring? An appreciative heart; sincere regard for the great throbbing social masses from which you spring. A heart that beats for human woes. A determination to have your purpose high as Mt. Everest and as pure as the snow upon its crest. For though it is a fine thing to give the world a sculptured hero to place upon a pedestal in a park it is a diviner thing to be a hero among the strifes of men."

Curtailment of passenger train service was announced yesterday at St. Paul by the Northern Pacific railway, on account of the shopmen's strike and with a view to conserving coal. Twenty trains are withdrawn.

eFw Progressive Votes.

FREMONT, Neb., July 21.—Unofficial returns record at the county clerk's office at the court house show that the progressive party received votes in only fourteen of the twenty-two precincts in Dodge county. The number may be increased by the official returns, all of which are to be in today.

Scottsbluff Not To Cut Down Its Courses of Study

(Special to The Star)

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., July 21.—An attempt to cut manual training domestic science and athletics from the course of study of the Scottsbluff high school was made by N. C. McClure, farmer member of the board, on the grounds that these were a burdensome expense to the taxpayers and deprived the children of time more valuable for studies. The motion was defeated by a vote of 3 to 2.

The Scottsbluff school board is still quarreling over the contract for the new high school building, and been unable to agree upon one to sign, although bonds were voted last February 15 for a structure to cost $300,000.

Superintendent at Hordville Marries School Principal

(Special to The Star.)

NELSON, Neb., July 21. — Prof. Jarville Rennick and Miss Gertrude Rose Nunn, superintendent and principal respectively, of the Hordville public schools, were married here Wednesday morning, Rev. H. G. Wilcox of the Methodist church conducted the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Rennick will spend a short honeymoon here with relatives, after which they will go to Hordville to prepare for the work of the new school year.

Cole Renominated For Sheriff With Very Little Work

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, July 21.—For the sixth consecutive time, several candidates tasted defeat here Tuesday at the hands of Sheriff W. A. Cole, who has been getting himself elected on the republican ticket every two years since 1912.

"I believe I have nothing to say," was the sum total of Sheriff Cole's campaign announcement. He ran the laconic message under his cut in the local newspaper, one time, and just let the campaign go at that.

Tuesday night Cole stood around for a while until one or two precincts reported. These reports indicated that his line was holding, so he went to bed and got up in time to take an early morning train for Missouri, where he is to take possession of a prisoner. He never even asked for the late returns.

Several of the candidates for sheriff in this year's primary have been running against Cole more or less regularly for the last ten years.

Some years ago Sheriff Cole lost a leg by shooting while, making an arrest. His assailant was sent to prison. The sheriff now uses a wooden leg.

Plattsmouth Elk Band Secured for Summer Concerts

(Special to The Star.)

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., July 24.—The Elks band of this city composed of members of Plattsmouth lodge No. 739, B. P. O. E., have been secured by the city for band concerts for the months of July and August. The city has made a tax levy to cover the expense of the municipal concerts.

Open Headquarters of National Wheat Growers at Trenton

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., July 21.—J. L. Hull, state director of the National Wheat Growers' Association, has announced the opening of Nebraska headquarters at Trenton, with Bruce Lampson of the Northwestern Wheat Growers' association, in charge. The Trenton office will also serve for Colorado. The association may later move the headquarters to Hastings.

Garfield County Prepare for Fair

(Special to The Star.)

BURWELL, Neb., July 21.—Construction is to begin at once of the buildings for the Garfield county fair, the grounds for which adjoin Burwell. Last year a fair was held here but as there were no improvements on the grounds the exhibits were placed in buildings in the town. A large crowd was present and it is expected it will be even greater this year, as a track will be in readiness, with grand stand, barns and other buildings on the forty acre tract which has been purchased. The dates for the fair are September 12 to 15 inclusive.

Sheriff Quinton Again Nominated

(Special to The Star.)

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., July 21.—In the recent primary election, Rex Young, well known auctioneer was defeated for the republican nomination by Sheriff C. D. Quinton, who has been sheriff of Cass county since 1905. Mr. Young, who was also on the progressive ticket will lose the nomination on both tickets as his progressive vote was not as large as the republican vote and therefore disqualifies him for the progressive nomination. The campaign was one of the most heated ever held in the county.

Plattsmouth Strike Conducted Peaceably

(Special to The Star.)

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., July 21.—The strike of the shop crafts in this city has been conducted very peaceably and the employes of the Burlington who have remained at work have not been molested by the strikers. A number of men brought here for work have been peaceably induced to leave the city without entering the shops. The force at work in the shops is now operating on a nine hour schedule in all departments.

Cambridge Church Lay Cornerstone

(Special to The Star.)

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., July 21.—The Methodists of Cambridge celebrated the laying of the cornerstone of their new $30,000 church with impressive ceremonies. The principal address was made by Chancellor Shreckengast of Nebraska Wesleyan university. The local postor, Rev. Kelly, was assisted in the exercises by Rev. Victor West of Omaha, former pastor of this church. Two charter members of the church as organized in 1885 were present and took part in the exercises. They were Mrs. T. L. Butts and Mrs. James John, both of Cambridge.

Fremont Has Many Well Kept Lawns

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., July 21.—Members of the Rotary club who are promoting a well kept lawn contest in Fremont are enthusiastic over the results so far this season and have decided to make the contest an annual affair.

Elect Randolph Bank Directors

RANDOLPH, Neb., July 21. — Directors for the coming year for the Farmers State bank were elected at a meeting of stockholders in the institution Wednesday night. S. F. Browne was named president, S. J. Lageschulte, vice president. S. J. O. Peterson, cashier.

BURWELL.—The wheat crop in Garfield county is about harvested, both quality and yield being good. Corn is looking fine and the prospects are good for a bumper crop.

PAY OUT BIG SUM TO BEET WORKERS

More Than Third of Million Disbursed in North Platte District.

(Special to The Star.)

SCOTTSBLUFF, Ne., July 21.—Payment of $384,000 for labor in the beet fields by farmers of the North Platte Valley irrigated regions was completed this week. The payment is made on the basis of $18 an acre for labor in the field, half of the amount less $1 an acre, being paid this time and the balance to be paid when the harvest is completed in October.

Paving Program at Falls City Halted By Omaha Firm Suit

(Special to The Star.)

FALLS CITY, Neb., July 21.—Work on Falls City's $75,000 paving program to have been started within the next three days, has been halted temporarily through mandamus proceedings filed by the Bauer and Johnson Construction and Supply company of Omaha, a competitive bidder, against the city. The Omaha firm claims to have been the lowest bidder J. Ammerman of Wichita, Kas., was awarded the contract.

City officials claim that the Omaha firm's bid was the second lowest.

Fined $50 On An Assault Charge

(Special to The Star)

BEATRICE, Neb., July 21.—J. F Morris of Steinauer was fined $50 and costs on a charge of assaulting Charles Shroff, Sr., at that place. The case was appealed to the district court. The trouble between the two men is said to have occurred several weeks ago.

Boy, 7, Breaks Arm In Fall From Tree

FALLS CITY, Neb., July 21.—Walter George, 7, sustained a fractured arm when he fell from a tree in front of his home five miles west of this city.

Street Lights On War Time Basis

HANNIBAL, Mo., July 21.—Hannibal's streets last night were virtually in darkness as the city's drastic program went into effect because of a coal shortage at the municipal light plant.

TWO COUPLES WED

(Special to The Star)

BEATRICE, Neb., July 21.—Edgar Leroy Anderson, 21, of Topeka, Kas., and Miss Elizabeth Roberts, 20 of Belmont, Kas., were married Thursday afternoon in this city by County Judge Messmore. A marriage license was also issued to Rev. W. H. Coburn, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, and Miss Harriet Audrey Van Deventyer of Perham, Minn. Mr. Coburn recently came here from Des Moines, Ia.

VETERANS ENTERTAIN.

Apoplexy is Fatal To Railroad Guard

John W. Frances, 61, special Burlington guard, died suddenly from apoplexy at 7:45 p. m., Thursday at the Burlington roundhouse shortly after having finished eating his supper. Castle, Roper and Matthews' ambulance was called but he died before the hospital was reached.

He was the father-in-law of Clyde Walt, police patrol driver. The body is being held at Castle, Roper and Matthews' chapel. No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

VITAMINES AND HEALTH
Make no mistake, to be healthful, the body needs nourishment rich in vitamines. The child needs them in abundance to assure growth and strength; the adult to help sustain the body-forces against disease.
SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PUREST VITAMINE-BEARING COD-LIVER OIL
is the ideal body-building food for a child or an adult. It is abundant in the vitamine-elements that science has found so needful for health and growth.
Just a little Scott's Emulsion, three times daily after meals, would be effective. Buy a bottle and start building your strength today!

CHAPTER XXII.

Although Adelaide had been told that she might go home on one day a week, she had not asked what day it would be. She had supposed it would be Sunday. But on Sabbath morning there was no suggestion that she take a few hours off.

She would have been glad of a respite. Now that she was initiated in the duties of her new position she had only her sleeping hours away from her charge.

Patricia went out regularly. She was always pleasant with Adelaide, but seemed to take her presence as a matter of course.

At first Adelaide had wondered what Richard Hollingshead did all day. Then, through a chance conversation between Pim and his father, she learned that the young man was in business with the older one. It was evident that the senior member of the firm allowed the son to take as much leisure as he wished—and that the boy was a mere figurehead in his father's business.

It was strange, Adelaide mused, that a man who had made his own way in the world should allow his children to fritter away their time!

Adelaide sat pondering these things after the too-bountiful Sunday afternoon dinner—one of the most odious of American institutions—was over. The young people had gone their several ways—Patricia to walk with Harry Forsythe—Richard in his automobile—whereas nobody knew. Richard had surprised her by asking her as she left the dining room:

"What are you going to do this afternoon Miss Brown?"

Patricia had answered before Adelaide could. "She is going to stay with mother, of course, Rick. I have an engagement. And this is Estelle's afternoon out."

Richard shrugged his shoulders. "I thought perhaps it might be Miss Brown's afternoon out," he remarked.

Taking a Long Nap.

Mr. Hollingshead paused in the doorway, started to speak, then thinking better of it, passed on.

"Now an hour after dinner, Adelaide was sitting in Mrs. Hollingshead's darkened room, as the blind woman insisted that a strong light hurt her eyes. The invalid was taking a long nap.

The noise of passing automobiles drowned the sound of a knock on the door. Adelaide did not know that any one had entered the room until a light touch on her shoulder made her start to her feet.

Close by her stood the man she had met in the hall on the evening on which Henry Hollingshead had engaged her.

"I am Dr. Carter," he said in a low voice. "I am sorry I startled you. The maid told me to come right upstairs. I knocked, but was not sure whether any one answered. So I come right in. You will ruin your eyes trying to read in this poor light."

He was looking at her kindly, and Adelaide felt at ease with him immediately.

"Has Mrs. Hollingshead been asleep long?"

"For over an hour."

"Sit down," he said. "I am glad of a chance to talk with you. You expect to remain on here?"

"If—if I give satisfaction" she murmured.

"I fancy you will," was the calm rejoinder.

The clear eyes were gazing straight at her—not boldly nor impertinently as Dick Hollingshead's eyes sometimes looked, but kindly and frankly, yet searchingly.

"You see, I am Mrs. Hollingshead's physician as you know—the specialist to whom her husband has trusted her. So I am relieved to have an opportunity for a plain talk with you. The patient gets no better. Her symptoms—the repression and occasional drowsiness for instance—show that the disease is progressing. This means much patience on your part—and lot of strength. I believe you have both."

Another Warning.

"I know I am strong; I hope I am patient," she said.

"You must be cheerful too."

"I will."

"And," he went on with a smile, "still another warning. You must take care of yourself—have regular exercise and fresh air. Do you?"

"I go riving with Mrs Hollingshead whenever the weather is fine."

"You must plan for regular hours off," he began. Then he stopped as Henry Hollingshead entered the room. At the sound of his step Mrs. Hollingshead awoke.

When greetings had been exchanged Dr. Carter turned to the sick woman's husband

"I have been telling Miss Brown," he said 'that she must go out often. She must have fresh air and exercise."

"She does!" Mrs. Hollingshead broke in. "I take her whenever I go driving—don't I, Addie?"

"Yes," the girl answered. "Of course, you do."

"Have you been out today?" the doctor asked.

"No" the invalid replied. "I did not feel like driving today."

"Then," the physician said authoritatively, "Miss Brown would best go out for a walk now."

(To Be Continued.)

Senate Deals Body Blow to Tariff Makers

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 21—In voting Thursday, 38 to 17, to limit the duties on cotton gloves to a maximum of 75 per cent ad valorem, the senate administered to the finance committee majority the most decisive defeat it has sustained since it brought in the administration tariff bill exactly three months ago. Twenty republicans, including Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the majority floor leader, voted against the committee. The other nineteen included Borah, of Idaho; Capper, Kansas; Cummins, of Iowa.

One democrat, Broussard Louisiana voted with the committee majority. Senator Lenroot led the fight for the maximum limitation. He declared congress should not impose a greater duty than 75 per cent ad valorem on any article of such general use as gloves in order to stimulate domestic protection.

Senators Wadsworth and Calder, republican, New York, led the opposition to the Lenroot maximum amendment.

Senators Pomerene, Ohio, and Simmons of North Carolina, Smith of South Carolina, and Hitchcock of Nebraska, democrats, argued that the facts showed the committee rates are too high.

THE PUBLIC MUST RULE.

Imagine yourself, if possible, a newly arrived visitor from some foreign country. You are well-read, you have given some time to the study of governments and you have heard of the great republic of America as being one of the highest types of democracy. You travel from port to Washington and pick up a newspaper printed there, under the very dome of the nation's capitol, so to speak. By chance, it is the first American newspaper you have read and turning to the editorial page you read the following impassioned discussion of the "Best Way to Quell Mobs." The editorial says:

"The secretary of war hesitates to use federal troops against railroad strikers because he fears that some men will be killed when soldiers are put in action.

"The strikers are American citizens convinced of the justice of their cause. It is better, perhaps, that mails should be delayed and freight shipments held up than that there should be mourning over dead husbands, brothers and fathers.

"In this connection, however, it is interesting to read that the war department proposes to use tear gas instead of bullets if the employment of troops is found necessary.

"A cloud of tear gas should serve as effectively to break up any riot as 1,000 rifles. We hope the proposal is adopted if troops are ordered out. Soldiers could release this vapor without exposing themselves to the fire of the strikers. The strikers themselves would be rendered helpless, but not permanently hurt. They would have no means of defending themselves and no means of retaliation. A mob is useless in combating gas warfare.

"How much better this will be than the old method. In past strike riots not a few workmen have been killed. Their families, their neighbors and their sympathizers, naturally, have been impressed with the cruelty and injustice of the government. But in this case the men simply would be taught a lesson. After becoming gas casuals they would be as well as ever in a few hours."

Thus you read and gasp, "So this is America." In the republic founded by Washington and Franklin and Jefferson, based upon the fundamental principles of justice and equality, you read that the secretary of war is deciding which is the best way to put down civil strife. Shall men be shot down in cold blood, or shall tear gas be used. It is preposterous, you will think, that such thoughts should occupy the minds of the high officials in a land that boasts of its democracy and high state of civilization.

Wouldn't it be a good thing if we Americans could look at ourselves through the eyes of the intelligent foreigner occasionally? We who are living today have inherited a magnificent treasure from our forefathers, a government based upon pure democracy. This heritage is not an imperishable thing, however, but must be kept untarnished and genuine. Our government must continue to represent the people, as it was originally planned. It must be by and for the people. The people must be the only rulers.

We are at the present time in the midst of one of the nation's most serious industrial controversies. In two of our great industries, employers and employes are separated by so wide a chasm that they have simply given up hope of coming to an understanding. And yet, as we consider the conditions without prejudice and without passion, we must inevitably arrive at the conclusion that the strife is due wholly to misunderstanding, wrong thinking and ignorance of the basic principles of democracy.

The present generation has witnessed the downfall of one ruling class and the ascendency of another—neither of which was the public. "Frankly," to quote a noted financial writer, "America not so very long ago was ruled by capitalistic interests." These interests were not made up of men who were capitalists in the true sense of the word, that is, men who regarded capital as stored energy and who used it to stimulate business, but men who used capital as a tool with which to rule the government and its constituted agencies. But such capitalistic interests have been overthrown and a new ruling power has come into being. The organized working men, influenced by radical leaders, have in such instances as the Herrin massacre and the Cliftonville battle, snapped their fingers at the law and set up a government of their own.

It is a fatal theory, however, to suppose that this nation may be ruled by either a so-called capitalistic party or a so-called labor party. In the first place, the idea that there is a distinct capitalistic class and a distinct labor class is wholly erroneous. When a great majority of the wealthiest men in this country were once poor boys, how can anyone assume to say when they passed from a working class to a capitalistic class?

The most significant and happiest sign of the times is that the American people are beginning to realize how far we have drifted from the democracy of our forefathers and that the only ruling power to be tolerated in this country is the public. Among the citizens of the United States, which makes up the public, are men of wealth, men belonging to organized labor unions, men who own stores and men who work in stores, men who plow and reap, men who practice the professions, men of science and arts—and they all belong, first of all, to the citizenry of the United States. The government is supreme and the public is the government.

A GAME FOR ALL.

When a twenty-one year old youth won the national open golf championship the other day, he again demonstrated the fact that golf is neither an old man's game nor a sport for millionaires. More people are playing golf every year and especially more young men. When the popularity of the game has increased steadily for the past two decades, how can anyone say that it is simply a fad?

Once one becomes intrigued by the vagaries and technique of the game, he very seldom gives up. That is seemingly proof of the interest which the game affords. As for those who do not play golf, there are many views, some more liberal than others. In the days when golf was referred to disgustingly as cow-pasture pool, the uninitiated simply refused to attempt to get the golfer's viewpoint and frankly dubbed the game as childish.

There are now a few non-players who are at least sympathetic toward the game. One man, who does not play, refers to his garden tools as his golf clubs and says he gets as good exercise as the golfer and it is more lucrative. Another man says he would prefer a walk over hills and through the wooded lands, coming closer to nature and learning more about its handiwork. Both men are charitable toward the golfer, but each believes his own idea of recreation a trifle better.

What most critics of golf fail to realize is that there is something more to the game than knocking a ball about the field with a stick. As the purely mental game of chess presents thousands of different problems and situations so does golf require an unlimited field of possibilities. A would-be golfer may dub about a bit just as one may learn the game of chess to a small degree and play with others of equal ignorance. But the good golfer and the good chess player must take more than a casual interest in the game. Technique is golf's middle name. But secondly, the game requires the greatest skill in co-ordination of mind and muscle. In this respect, golf clearly outranks either gardening or nature study. The healthful side of golf is undisputed.

A certain New York bank has made a radical departure from ordinary bank window display methods which will serve as a benefit to scores of persons. The bank, instead of filling its windows with placards, etc., has introduced an attractive scenic display in its window. The view shows a rocky landscape. From the foreground rises a road, lined with miniature trees, and leading up the hill to a beautiful mansion. The entire length of the road is dotted with nickels and dimes. About the display are coin-banks, such as are loaned to depositors. The symbolical effect of the scene is instantaneous. Without saying so, the thought is driven home that the road to wealth and independence is strewn with nickels and dimes which, in all too many cases, are thoughtlessly wasted, but which, if saved, would form the foundation of wealth.

A LA FOLLETTE PARTY.

Why not a third party with La Follettte for its prophet? La Follette does not belong in the republican party. He does not belong in the democratic party. But he stands for political ideas and proposals which have a not inconsiderable currency, and it would make for political clarification and consistency if they were segregated and formed into a program with formal political backing. We could then discuss them and adopt or reject them, and, in so doing, we should reaffirm our political conceptions instead of taking them, as we largely do, for granted.

It is true our two-party system works better on the whole than a multi-party system operating through group combinations or blocs. It fits better our political character, which proceeds by compromises. Group combinations are likely to be futile or sterile in practical results, though clearer and more consistent in the field of theory.

But an occasional experiment in third parties is wholesome, and not likely to change our general habit of party division. La Follette's party, with its radical ideas of constitutional change, would draw from the radical extremes of both parties, but we doubt if it could survive the cool examination of a campaign or two. It would compel a consideration of our constitutional principles, from which, we have no doubt, they would emerge more definitely and firmly appreciated by this generation than they are now. We need a campaign of education on essential Americanism, and a radical party under La Follette might confer that benefit.—Chicago Tribune.

RESPECTABLE DIME NOVELS.

On July 15 the New York public library will place on view the Beadle collection—1,480 of those thin, bright-colored books or pamphlets which were known to a pre-moving-picture generation as dime novels.

The dime novel was once anathema to every respectable community in the United States. Preachers thundered against it, ranking it with the ballroom and the cigarette and the demon rum as one of the short-cuts to perdition. Careful mothers warned their boys against these snares of the evil one that came in bindings too glaring and at a price too low to fit in with any concept of middle-class decency. Meanwhile the boys so warned were reading the pernicious tales by tens and hundreds—out in the barn, perhaps, or under the edge of a school-desk, or in the shade by a swimming-hole.

During the Civil war the dime novel was a new invention, and it flooded the camps, to the horror of all right-thinking persons. It has never lived down its ill-fame.

And yet, now that it is gone save for a few specimens saved by collectors, we are informed that it was in reality a harmless and healthy type of fiction, based with considerable historical accuracy on the pioneer life of the west. We are invited to inspect it with gravity as the main literary amusement of our fathers and grandfathers when they were boys. The dime novel takes its place somewhere between the Rollo books and Dumas. Times have changed.—New York World.

A Bit of Homely Philosophy

ARE YOU A BLUSTERING BOSS?

Really successful employers never give emphatic orders to a helper, of either high or low degree, while any one outside the force is present.

An employee who is worthwhile does not enjoy being instructed in a way which suggests that he cannot get his employer's idea without having it literally hammered into him.

Pride is a part of every good man or woman's character.

Pride in quality and quantity of work produced—and too much pride to wish to be belittled before others, is natural.

The boss who follows such a practice as making employees conspicuous before others when he given an order loses the best effort an employee is capable of making, or perhaps loses a good helper.

It may be the result of circumstances, not ability, which puts one man in as head and the other as employee.

There is no reason why an employer should treat an intelligent and energetic employee in a discourteous manner.

It is not often that a capable man will stand this sort of thing.

Once in a while circumstances might make it necessary.

An employer who will take advantage of such a man is not a real man.

Rambling through Nebraska.

BY C. DURANT JONES

Of course all good citizens believe that the laws upon the statute books ought to be enforced. Either that, or they should be repealed. But a fellow can find some amusement in watching the operation of some of the laws as they are enforced. The other day a gentleman at Valentine was fishing in the mill pond. He had a license all right but did not have it in his pocket. The game warden came along and the empty pocket lead to the mans arrest and a fine. Of course the officer was enforcing the law all right, for that seems to be the law. Not only that the license must be in the pocket but the fisherman must have the pocket on while fishing. The important thing seems to be not the possession of the license, or the payment of the required fee, but the license must be where it can be seen immediately by the officer, or the fish, or any other parties who may be concerned.

The Valentine Republican calls attention to this absurd provision of the law and we believe that most people will agree with that paper in its criticism. We shudder to think what the result would be if the principle of that law were extended to other activities, so that, for example, a man's right to his farm were questioned unless he continually carried the deed in his pocket, or an insurance company refuse to pay a loss because the property owner did not have his policy in his pocket at the time his house burned, or some officer walk off with a man's wife just because the man forgot to put his marriage certificate in his pocket, or had changed clothes.

Incidentally, the tax payers are paying some good money for the purpose of seeing that fishermen wear the particular pockets in which their licenses repose.

There is a unique church building at Keystone, possibly the only one of its kind in the world. It is owned jointly by the Catholics and Protestants. The Catholic altar is in one end of the building and the protestant pulpit is in the other end. They take turns in using it, and apparently their is no conflict of interests. Theologically, they are wide apart in their views and practices. Socially, the adherents are friends and neighbors, every day in the week. In their hours of worship, they are as wide apart as the poles, but they turn their faces towards the same Creator and plead for recognition. If both receive all they hope for they will eventually see things alike and theological views will not stand in the way of fellowship as harmonious as their social and business relations now are.

Editor J. A. Zavadil, of the Humphrey Democrat, says that the dire predictions of what woman would do when she got the ballot have failed of materialization. He says that she has not shown any great inclination to forsake the interests of her home for office seeking, but that she still retains her interest in and devotion to her home, children and husband. He says that but twenty women in eleven states have announced their candidacy for the national house of representatives, while but four women in as many states announced for the senate. Two states show women candidates for governor. He thinks that as long as the rush for office on the part of the fair sex assumes no greater proportions than is now apparent, and he thinks it will not, the interests of the home and society are perfectly safe.

Northwest Nebraska is becoming thoroughly convinced that too much attention cannot be given to production of potatoes, and steps are being taken to put the industry upon its feet in the best possible manner. When the price of wheat went soaring a year or so ago, some of the potato raisers got sidetracked into wheat growing but the smash in prices cured a lot of them of their wandering interest, and the returned to their old friend, the spud. The growers of Box Butte county have now organized a co-operative selling society and over three thousand acres of spuds are under contract with it. The selling will be handled upon a commission basis, the society receiving 15 cents per hundred pounds for handling. It is believed that this will be ample to cover the cost. Commissions are now running from fifteen to twenty-five cents per bushel with other concerns and the growers believe that quite a saving can be effected by arranging to handle the selling themselves. Branches will be established at Alliance, Marlsand, Berea and perhaps other places and plans have been completed for handling the crop produced this year. A similar association was in operation some years ago but after having been used profitably for a time, it failed because of disagreement among the members.

It is believed that the present scheme will be successful as long as a policy of operation can be agreed upon, and the Box Mutte growers mean business.

FOR WANT OF WRITING

(New York Evening Post.)

In that blank and forever unchronicled past which lies the other side of the Palermo stone, how many works of literature must have perished. How many mysteries would have been clear, if papyrus had been thought of a few thousand years sooner. Merely the lack of something suitable to write upon silenced for us the poets, the story tellers, and the historians of Egypt, Babylonia, and Assyria. In his absorbing "Introduction to the History of History" Professor Shotwell of Columbia ries in a single chapter the slow development of writing. The gap between the message sticks of the Australian blacks and the picture writing of the South African bushmen, he points out, is far wider than that between hieroglyphs and the alphabet. Yet while the cave dwellers of Europe 10,000 to 20,000 years ago, could draw he bison and reindeer with a skill to match that of artists today, such simple things as letters are he invention of those comparatively recent times when merchant ships from Tyre and Sidon were already exploiting the markets of the Mediterranean."

Profound as was the effect of the appearance of the printing press upon he hisory of western thought, the invention of paper must be counted quite as revolutionary. Without it our libraries would be stacked with slabs of ciselled stone and our newspapers would be sundried bricks. Books would be anything but companions. One would have to go to them, wherever they were, in order to read them.

"What is written depends in a great measure upon what it is written on," says Professor Shotwell. The medium for preserving literature conditions both its scope and its place in society. So some of our misapprehensions regarding ancient times are due to the fact that the history of histories is a subject which few students have gone into deeply, and the means of preserving history, rather than history itself, are little understood because. "historiography seldom designs to cast its eye on to purely material a basis for its existence." Genealogies, dry records of reigns and dates of festivals, were not the sole literary output of the first historic ages, but they might as well be so far as we are concerned, simply for the reason that writing was such a job. It must have hampered inspiration almost as greatly to scrach litle wedgeshaped marks on Babylonian bricks and cylinders as to inscribe the pictures the stone monuments of Egypt In early Greece boards were used for preserving the works of the poets which a still earlier day had committed to memory. Tradition has it that the Greek tyrants gathered libraries and employed scholars to edit the classical texts. "But that scholarly activity could not achieve much when it would require 200 wooden tablets to accommodate the two Homeric epics."

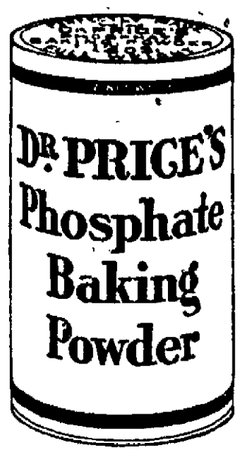

After reading this chapter in Professor Shotwell's book, one is prepared to appreciate typewriters, fountain pens, and plentiful scratch paper.

Have Already Sent in Their Ballots in "The Digest's" Nation-wide Poll of 10,000,000 Men and Women

ON

Prohibition and The Bonus

Learn How YOUR State is Voting

In this week's number of "The Digest" more than 200,000 votes are tabulated by States. While there have been referendums and straw votes conducted in a limited way before, the present nation-wide poll is the biggest enterprise of its kind ever attempted outside of a general election.

More than 10,000,000 ballots have been sent out by mail to men and women in all walks of life. It is an absolutely secret ballot inasmuch as voters do not have to sign their names to it. They express their sentiments by marking the ballot and returning it to "The Digest." If you have received one of these ballots please mark and return it immediately so that your vote may be counted.

This poll has already created the most profound interest in all quarters, and in addition to the thousands and tens of thousands of ballots being received daily, thousands of letters have also been received outlining the writers' views for and against Prohibition and the Soldiers' Bonus.

Don't miss getting this week's "Digest" and reading the results of this record-breaking poll. You will learn what the sentiment is in your State and in every other State of the Union. The returns will be tabulated and shown in the "Digest" each week throughout the summer. As the New York Tribune remarks, "Whatever the final tabulation, it will furnish a definite indication of popular sentiment."

COCOANUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves it fine and silky bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement

What To Eat — Where To Get It — How To Cook It

MRS. VIFQUAIN WINS FIRST PRIZE FOR BROWN BREAD

Twelve Recipes for Famous Old New England Dish Are Published.

Mrs. W. S. Farrar of Lincoln Wins Second Prize in Competition.

Mrs. Harold B. Vifquain of University Place and Mrs. W. S. Farrar were first and second prize winners in the brown bread recipe competition this week. Ten other recipes were selected for honorable mention. Many variations of the old-fashioned recipe were turned in varying all the way from a bread to a pastry to take the place of cake. The one selected for first place is similar to the old-fashioned brown bread handed down by our New England forefathers.

The decision of the judge, Mrs. Irene W. Haykin, home economics instructor in the Lincoln schools, is as follows:

First prize, $2—Mrs. Harold B. Vifquain, University Place.

Second prize, $1—Mrs. W. S. Farrar, Lincoln.

Honorable Mention

Mrs. J. Lloyd McMasters, Lincoln.
Mrs. Freda Drda, Wilber, Neb.
Velma Lauber, Geneva, Neb.
Mrs. I. W. Longstreet, Lincoln.
Mrs. Owen Kelly, Lincoln.
Mrs. Dora Cozad, Lincoln.
Belle Neumann, Lincoln.
Mrs. Gladys Kelly, Lincoln.
Mrs. G. W. Calvert, Lincoln.
Mrs. Olan W. Curry, Burchard, Neb.

The Winning Recipe

Mrs. Vifquain's brown bread—One half cup molasses; 1 ½ cups water; 1 ½ cups sour milk; 2 teaspoons soda, ½ teaspoon salt; 1 cup white flour; 1 cup graham flour; 2 cups corn meal; raisins or nuts or both if desired. Mix and put in three medium size cans and steam for about three hours or cook about 45 minutes in a pressure cooker. In cutting hot brown bread so that it will not crumble use a piece of cord; thus cuts smooth slices. This recipe as you can see calls for no eggs or shortening and is very delicious, especially with Boston baked beans.

Mrs. Farrar's brown bread—Three cups graham flour; 1 cup molasses; 2 eggs; 1 cup sweet milk; piece of butter th esize of an egg; ½ teaspoon cloves; ½ taspoon nutmeg; ½ teaspoon cinnamon; 1 cup raisins; 1 3-4 teaspoons soda; 1 taspoon salt. Mix the dry ingredients. Add molasses and milk and melted butter, then eggs beaten lightly. Beat well. Put in buttered molds; butter cover also. Fill mold only two thirds full. Steam two hours. Dry in oven for ten minutes before removing from mold.

Honorable Mention

Mrs. McMaster's brown bread—Two eggs; 1 cup sugar; 2-3 cup spiced watermelon preserve juice; 1 cup sour milk; 1 teaspoon soda; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon baking powder; 1 ½ cups graham flour; 1 ½ cups white flour; 1 tablespoon melted crisco; 1 cup raisins; 1 cup English walnuts; 1 cup diced watermelon preserves. Add sugar to well beaten eggs, then milk in which soda has been dissolved, watermelon preserves juice and salt. Stir in graham and white flour alternately. Baking powder should be mixed with the flour. Next add melted crisco, beat well and add nuts and fruits. Bake in slow oven for forty minutes or until it is done through. Molasses may be used instead of spiced watermelon preserve juice, but the loaf will be found far superior if the juice is used.

Mrs. Freda Drda's orange brown bread—To 1 cup sour buttermilk add 1 tablespoon molasses, the juice of 1 juicy orange, a level teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons candied orange peel (twice the amount of chopped dates or raisins may be used with or in place of orange peel). Into 2 cups graham flour stir 1 teaspoon baking soda. Mix all ingredients together and turn into a buttered tin about half full and steam about 2 hours. After steaming bake fifteen minutes to crust top lightly.

Miss Laubers's brown bread—One cup rye meal; 1 cup granulated corn meal; 1 cup graham flour; 3-4 tablespoon soda; 1 teaspoon salt; 3-4 cup molasses; 2 cups sour milk or 1 3-4 sweet milk or water. Mix and sift dry ingredients, add molasses and milk, stir until well mixed, turn into a well buttered mould and steam three and one half hours. The cover should be buttered before being placed on mould and then tied down with string; otherwise the bread in rising might force off cover. Mould should never be filled more than two thirds full. For steaming, place mould on a triver in kettle containing boiling water, allowing water to come half-way up around mould, cover closely and steam, adding as needed more boiling water. One-pound baking powder cans make good moulds.

Mrs. Longstreet's Boston brown bread—Two and one half cups sour milk; 1 ½ cups corn meal; 1 ½ cups wheat graham flour; ½ cups dark molasses; 1-3 cup raisins or chopped dates; 1-3 cup pecan meats or English walnuts; 2 level teaspoons soda dissolved in 1 ½ teaspoons hot water. Sift together dry ingredients, stir nuts and raisins in, mix milk and molasses and dissolved soda; then combine all and beat together. Have ready well greased tins (the one-pound baking powder cans are good); fill two thirds full of batter, grease and fit on the covers and steam three hours in the ordinary steamer or one and a half hours in a pressure cooker.

Mrs. Kelly's brown bread—Two cups sifted flour, 4 cups clean bran (graham); 2 cups sour milk; 2 tablespoons shortening; 1 cup molasses; 1 teaspoon soda; ½ teaspoon salt; 3-4 cup each of nut and raisins. Mix flour, bran and salt, warm molasses, melt shortening in it and stir soda into sour milk; then mix all thoroughly, add nuts and raisins and shape in two loaves. Bake forty minutes in medium oven. Remove and grease tops.

Mrs. Cozad's brown bread—Two cups graham flour; 2 cups white flour; 3 teaspoons baking powde ; ½ teaspoon soda; 1 teaspoon salt; ½ cup sugar; 1 egg; ½ cup sorghum 2 cups sweet milk; 3-4 pound raisins. Mix well together, pour into greased brown bread molds. Bake one hour.

Miss Neumann's brown bread—One cup dates cut fine, put in dish and add 1 teaspoon soda, then add 1 cup boiling water and let cool. One egg; 1 tablespoon butter; ½ cup sugar; 1 cup graham flour; 1 cup white flour; 1 teaspoon baking powder; ½ cup nut meats; pinch of salt. Let rise fifteen minutes. Bake in slow oven over one hour.

Mrs. Kelly's brown bread—One cup rye meal; 1 cup Indian meal; 1 cup graham flour; 2 cups sour milk; 1 cup molasses; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon soda. To the milk add molasses (New Orleans preferred), soda and salt. Into this stir the meal and flour, pour into a well greased form or covered pail, put into a kettle of boiling water and cook three hours. This may appear too thin, but do not add anything more. See that this does not boil over the pail, also that it does not boil dry or stop boiling. To serve remove the cover and set a few minutes in oven to dry off top and it will turn out in shape.

Mrs. Calvert's baked brown bread—Two and a half cup sour milk, ½ cup sugar; 4 cups graham flour; 2 level teaspoons soda; 1-3 box seedless raisins or as many as liked; 3-4 cup either light or dark syrup; 1-4 teaspoon salt. Mix flour, sugar raisins and salt, then add syrup and milk in which soda has been dissolved. Put mixture in two well greased pans as for separate loaces of bread, then let stand one hour and then bake one hour in medium oven.

Mrs. Curry's baked brown bred—Two cups sour milk; 3-4 cup molasses; 1 tablespoon melted lard; 1 ½ teaspoons soda; 1 cup flour; 2 cups graham flour; 1 teaspoon salt. Mix dry ingredients thoroughly. Combine sour milk, lard and molasses. Stir in the dry ingredients and beat vigorously. Turn into an oiled pan and bake one hour in a moderate oven.

Submit Recipes For Pickles Next

Nebraska women are invited to submit their recipes for sweet cucumber pickles in the Lincoln Star's recipe competition closing next Tuesday. For the best recipe the Lincoln Star will pay $2, and for the second best $1.

Recipes should be sent to the recipe editor, in care of the Lincoln Star. Recipes reaching the office later than 12 o'clock Tuesday noon, July 24, cannot be considered by the judge, Mrs. Irene W. Haykin, home economics instructor in the Lincoln schools.

Amundsen's Polar Flight Delayed Because of Ice

SEATTLE, Wash., July 21.—Unfavorable ice conditions in Bering Sea have delayed the arrival of Captain Roald Amundsen's exploration ship Maud at Point Barrow, Alaska, and delayed the start of his projected air plane flight across the north pole to Spitsberger or Grant's Land, according to advices received here from several sources. Captain Amundsen, who left Nome, Alaska, for Point Barrow last June 29, expected he would be able to begin his polar flight yesterday.

HITCHCOCK AND BRYAN FORGET THEIR OLD FEUD

World Herald Endorses Candidacy of Lincoln Man For Governor.

Hearty Praise For Winner of Democratic Primary Fight.

That the democratic party of Nebraska will not be handicapped in the coming campaign by the old Bryan-Hitchcock feud, which contributed largely to its defeat in 1918 and 1920, is indicated by a hearty endorsement which the Omaha World-Herald, Senator Hitchcock's newspaper, editorially gives to C. W. Bryan as the gubernatorial candidate of th eparty.

The Bryans, on their part, will undoubtedly support Senator Hitchcock's re-election. Their attitude will be that the liquor question is settled, that the senator has publicly announced himself in harmony with the majority sentiment in Nebraska on that question, and that on issues now confronting the people Hitchcock is entitled to their support on his record.

It will be further pointed out that Senator Hitchcock and his republican opponent are in precisely the same position as regards prohibition. Before it was adopted as the state and national policy, both men personally opposed it. Since the federal and state constitutions have been amended to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, Mr. Howell has changed his former attitude and is now pledged to support prohibition. Senator Hitchcock has given a similar pledge, accepting the mandate of Nebraska's electorate as binding upon himself.

Praises "Brother Charley"

Under the caption of "Brother Charles," the Senator's newspaper comments upon the democratic candidiate for governor as follows:

Charles W. Bryan is something more than the devoted brother of the Great Commoner. He is the democratic nominee for governor of Nebraska, for one thing, and the World-Herald joins with the great body of united and militant Nebraska democrats in the fond hope and confident belief that he will be Nebraska's next governor.

"'Brother Charles' has fairly won his spurs in his own right. Nebraska has come to know him as a first class fighting man, with the courage of a lion and the aggressiveness of a Jack Dempsey. The city of Lincoln has learned, in years of experience, that he is a capable executive, alert, intelligent, active, keen, fearless, and devoted to the interests of the people whom he serves. He isn't the kind of a man who lurks in the underbrush. He loves a fight for a cause in which he believes, and he does his fighting out in the open, wearing his heart on his sleeve as he fights. His word is as good as a United States bond, and he is as devoted to principle as he is devoid of malice.

"There is something about that kind of man that one can't help admiring. The World-Herald has admired him even at times when he was doing his darndest to lay low its fondest aspirations. He fought fairly and he fought honestly, and we have never questioned that his convictions were as sincerely held as our own.

Historic Issues Involved

"The issues that arose unfortunately to divide the democrats of Nebraska are settled issues. The old, the fundamental issues—the issues that Jefferson fought for, that Jackson fought for, that William Jennings Bryan fought for—and with him, shoulder to shoulder, Gilbert M. Hitchcock—these issues remain. The equal rights of the common people as against tthe privileges of those who esteem themselves superior and entitled to superior advantages at the hand of government—it is for this that the democratic party has fought throughout its history, and that fight was never more in need of devoted champions than it is today. It is that devotion that makes men and women democrats, and that, in a great crisis in the history of our land, has reunited the democracy of Nebraska.

"Charles W. Bryan is a qualified leader for such a campaign. He has the energy and acumen to make it a winning campaign. And, what is more important, he can be depended upon when elected to make good his campaign pledges, and to continue the fight for them to the last hour he remains in office.

"Mr. Bryan as a candidate for governor will appeal with peculiar force to the independent voters, who are rapidly growing in number. He fights more for principle than for party, and has never stayed his hand against his own party when he believed it to be wrong. When he is elected Nebraska will have a state government that functions, that is on the job actively and that will be responsive to the wishes and devoted interests of its citizens."

What To Eat — Where To Get It — How To Cook It

When a Girl Marries

by Ann Lisle

KING FEATURE SYNDICATE INC.

CHAPTER 700.

When Dad Lee disappeared into the silence of night, the words he had just said seemed to echo all about me and to resound scornfully after him.

Perhaps there was a pitiless triumph in telling me that he knew where Jim is and then letting the night swallow up both him and his information. But it seemed to me that some motive of pity had moved him. It was almost as if he were sorry for me because of what he knew. I stood staring after him as if I could so pierce the darkness of the mystery he had suggested and of the hour itself.

Then, because that was the only pratcical thing to do, I closed the door, shot the big night-bolt and dragged myself wearily up the stairs, my hand pressing whitely in the dark against the mahogany stair rail. I had no doubt that I was in for another so called "white night" of sleeplessness.

My worst fears were confirmed. Still I would have hated myself if it had been possible for me to sleep while the problem Dad Lee had introduced in his parting words, lay waiting for some effort, at least to solve it.

How do Dad Lee and Dick know where Jim is? How can they know? Who can have told them? Surely, since I myself am denied this knowledge and since Mabel Storrs is forbidden it, the last persons in the world to whom Jim would wish this information to come must be Dick West and his friends.

For them to know where Jim is means a leak somewhere. But where. Have some of Jim's plans miscarried, so that information has filtered out, or is there some one who is not true to Jim's best interests?

No matter how many aides have been delegated to take care of Jim's interests, I am the one to whom they mean most, since they also are my interests. So I must proceed carefully and warily in order to make sure that no blunder of mine leads to a greater "leakage" than already has taken place.

The time has come when I must manage to tie up the threads of Dick West's weaving. Dad Lee is in the pattern. Before I move I must get things clarified. Try as I have, I cannot see the way clearly alone. I must talk with some one. But with whom? A short time ago I would, without hesitation, have gone straight to Mabel Storrs. Now, though I still trust her—and mean to make every personal stand I can on and for that faith in her—I cannot risk Jim's deepest interests in the hands of any human being on whom some one else I know has dared to throw suspicion.

I can't go to Rosa Cordova. Carlotta, Tony and Betty are all out of the question. Neither Pat nor Nhal is free to give me full measure of time I may need. That leaves only Tom Mason. I feel that I must go to him.

At this point I ceased tossing about, for it seemed that a real decision was reached. I managed then to drift into a state resembling sleep and to snatch a little true rest.

But I was a dragged and weary being when next morning I entered the dining room for an eight o'clock breakfast. I was forcing down a glass of iced orange juice, hoping for the best from its supposed medicinal effects, when Bertha came in to say that Miss Storrs was outside and begged me to see her at once.

"Please lay a second place quickly, Bertha, and then ask Miss Storrs to come in here. She can't have breakfasted so early in the morning," I said with a smile which brought prompt and pleased recognition from Bertha.

Two minutes later Bertha brought Mabel Storrs into the room. I leaped to my feet to greet her and then fairly arrested myself in midmotion at sight of my Goddess of Liberty girl.

Her pallor was like the coloring of old ivory. Her cheeks were drawn tightly over her cheek bones so that they stood out squarely in high relief. Her eyes were sunken, and beneath them lay purplish smudges. She looked like the dull image of the girl I'd seen yesterday shrinking from Ramon Ortiz and from the malicious triumps in Rosa Cordova's face.

"Mabel!" I gasped shaken from anything that remotely resembles poise. "G—— good morning. Come and have breakfast with me. I hate eating alone."

"I couldn't eat," Mabel murmured without even the ghost of her usually vivid clearness of speech.

"You can drink a glass of iced orange juice," I replied firmly "Also you can take a cup of black coffee. Not only you can—you shall! Am I clear, young woman, my dear? You must."

"Please Annie," said Mabel. If it had been anyone else, I would have thought she was whimpering.

"You come to see me at this unearthly hour, therefore you are uncommon anxious to speak to me" I went on with a serenity I was far from feeling. "And you shall not say a word unless you've breakfasted already. Have you?

"No. I couldn't I didn't sleep all night."

"Neither did I. So don't irritate be my neglecting my commands or discussing them. First we breakfast. Then we go into the sunroom and close the door and there tell each other what is in our hearts. Please, Mabel."

With a wan little smile Mabel yielded to my coaxing. She drained her glass of orange juice, crumbled a piece of toast and swallowed a cup of steaming hot blacq coffee. Then with a hint of color in her face to make it clear that she was not a ghost but a human thing, even if more dead than alive, Mabel sent me a little smile and asked, like a child wanting to be petted:

"Did you make me drink that terrible—though wonderful—coffee because you're fond of me?"

"Yes, dear," I said as if to a child.

We went into the sun room and Mabel stood inert and acquiescent while I lifted off her soft duvetyne hat and plumped pillows out into the hollow of a big wing chair. Then she sat down and relaxed into the nest I'd make. For a minute or two she sat with her eyes closed. Then she opened them, fixed them on me and cried:

"Would you believe in me no matter how things looked—no matter what anyone said?"

"Need I answer?" I gently asked.

"No. I suppose Rose Cordova has said all she could invent. But, in her case, you don't like her, don't trust her. Oh, forgive me. Anne—but I'm half-mad. I must be sure. Would you believe in me if—a man were to come to you and tell you—and tell you I was not worthy of your friendship? Would you Could you still believe in me if someone told you I was—was different from what you've always thought?"

The agony of pleading in Mabel's voice made me forget myself, forget even Jim, as I leaned forward, took one of her hands in both of mine and said with all my heart:

"Mabel Storrs, I believe in you now in spite of all you are insinuating. Do you think I'd listen to anyone who spoke evil of you—when I won't listen t you?"

HOLD RECEPTION FOR NEW LINCOLN PASTOR.

The members of the congregation of Grace Methodist church held an informal reception last evening in the church parlors in honor of the new pastor, Dr. H. F. Wilkinson, Mrs. Wilkinson and their young daughter and son Miss Dorothy and Arnold. Over 400 guests were present. A profusion of garden flowers an ferns were used in the decorations of the parlors.

Rev. Oscar Lowe, assistant pastor of the church, introduced the guests to Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson and presided during the program which was given during the evening. The invocation was given by Dr. C. M. Shepherd. An organ recital by Mrs. C. W. Fleming followed. The vocal numbers on the program included a group of songs by Mrs. Will Hinman accompanied by Miss Margaret McGregor and several numbers by the Imperial male quartette. Mrs. C. H. Rush contributed a group of musical readings. Several talks were given including one by C. W. Watson who represented the church board and one by Chancellor I. B. Schreckengast for the Methodist ministers of Lincoln. Dr. Wilkinson responded with an enjoyable talk.

Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson and their daughter and son were Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Schrotberger, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Miller and Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Shepherd. Mrs. C. H. Cable was assisted by the young ladies of the Epworth league in serving refreshments. The reception committee was consisted of the members of the official board and their wives and also Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wythers, Mr and Mrs. K. M. ## LINCOLNSHIRE TO CONSIDER MOVING

Dinner Club May Go to Putnam Residence at Twelfth and K Streets.

Members Support Financial Program—Directors Meet Friday Night.

A suggestion that the location of the Lincolnshire club be changed from the LaFayette block, where it was first established, to the A. M. Putnam residence, 501 South Twelfth street, two blocks south, will be considered at a meeting of the board of directors Friday evening.

July 20 was the final date set for the payment of the first half of the $15 annual membership dues, as established at a meeting of stockholders. Club officials state that members have paid in this assessment promptly and generally, and that everyone interested is enthusiastic as to the future success of the club.

A number of new members have been recently admitted, taking advantage of the rule newly established of taking an annual membership for $20 instead of buying stock in the Lincolnshire. Practically all talk of the possible discontinuance of the club has died out, according to the directors.

LINCOLN MAN IN A SMASHUP

Larson's Car Collides With Another—Four Slightly Hurt.

(Special to The Star.)

ULYSSES, Neb., July 21.—Five occupants, including a baby, were thrown out of one car in a collision near here Tuesday night between automobiles driven by C. H. Larson, a Lincoln architect, and Willard Jones. Jones was driving the car belonging to Willard Warren and in the machine at the time of the crash were Mr. and Mrs. Warren, their little daughter, Jones and a girl friend. They were returning from Seward and had just crossed a small bridge when the accident occurred. The force of the impact threw the occupants of the Warren machine in every direction.

Mr. Warren received a broken rib. Mrs. Warren received a bad gash over her eye and Jones was badly scratched and bruised. The girl was slightly injured. The baby escaped unhurt. Larsen escaped injury, although his car was badly damaged. The Warren car was badly wrecked. o blame has been attached to either part for the accident.

Trust Fund Case Likely to Close Quite Abruptly

CHICAGO, July 21.—The hearing at which Mrs. Katherine Thorne, wealthy widow of the late vice president of Mongromery Ward & Co., is trying to have set aside a trust fund of $350,000 made out in favor of William C. Camp, her divorced husband, came to what is believed to be an abrupt end today.

The session was no more than convened when counsel for Mrs. Thorne and counsel for Camp went into secret session after which they emerged with the statement that certain things would "be expurgated and expidited."

It is believed to mean that the sensational disclosures, made by Camp on the stand are about to be stricken from the records and the hearings rushed to a close.

MINERVA'S MAIL

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

Better to Keep Silent

Dear Minerva: I have a girl chum who is simply a wonderful girl. She is seventeen years of age and has been keeping company with a young man two years her senior for almost three months. One week he did not come to see her as he was away from home on business. So consequently two trouble-making girls from his home town started that he went away to get married. He told her this and they considered it a huge joke. But here is the trouble. In her home town the story is that she is running around with a married man. She is ignorant of this rumor and I've told some of the girls it is not true but they do not like her so are doing all they can to hurt her. Shall I tell her the story or would that be the wisest thing to do? I'm afraid if her folks find out the gossipers latest news they'll make her drop his friendship simply because they know the gossips could not be convinced otherwise by any means. So consequently it would give her a bad name. But they think him a prince of a fellow and he treats her with so much respect and is very considerate of her. It seems if they would make her drop his friendship I'll be the blame for telling her. Do you think it would be better to let the thing die out with her ignorant of this? But while this is being done it might give her a bad name. You know how things spread in a small town. I surely wouldn't have her feeling hurt or have her peeved at me as I dearly love her. Please advise me.—HER PAL.

A. I believe the tale is better untold. Gossip which is foundationless dies a natural death after it has run its brief course of folly, providing it is not nurtured with too much attention and opposision. Since the man is not married, the joke will be on the idle gossips who are spreading this ugly story, and the time will come when they will feel chagrined at their mis-statement. There is no need of making your friend unhappy over the gossip. She cannot stop it; anything she would say in such an attempt would but add fuel to the fire. It is better just to let the gossip die a natural death, and pray for its early demise.

A Poem

Dear Minerva: Not long ago I heard a tale,
'Twill bear a second telling;
A little lad just three years old,
Was with his aunty dwelling.
This little lad had learned to dance,
And at the Ladies' Aid
He tried to trip the "Tickle Toe"
To music quite home-made.

They put on "Nearer My God to Thee",
A solemn air and slow,
The laddie tried to hop to it
But couldn't make it go.
He stopped, bewildered, quite displeased,
With comment rather pat,
"It's too much Christianty,
I cannot dance to that".

The moral, folks, is plain to see,
The point I need not shout;
Whenever Christ has entered in,
The dance is driven out.—ARDENT.

Dear Minerva: We have two kittens here to give to someone. They were left here and having several of our own cannot keep them. Our telephone is F 4283.

Dear Minerva: I have some nice quilting pieces which I would like for some worthy person to have. B 1831.

Questions Answered Briefly

Ambitious: Your idea of inserting a notice in the magazine which you mention would be good, if the price of such ads were not prohibitive. You can write and inquire the rates. An ad in a New York newspaper might bring results. Also you might write to the Y. W. C. A's of the larger cities giving your credentials.

Massage designed to fill out the wrinkles in the face caused by the sudden reduction of flesh is as follows: "The cheek muscles running from the corner of the mouth up over the cheek bones should be treated with a clawing motion, light and quick, not pinching. Rub the forehead in a rotary motion upward from the corners of the eyes and outward to remove horizontal lines. Vertical furrows between the eyes must be massaged with the first fingers only moving in a long oval in contrary directions. Above and below the eyes rub lightly with the middle fingers in a vibratory motion outward from the nose to the temples.

BROWN HIGH IN JUDGESHIP RACE

E. E. Good Other Winning Candidate—Colby is Defeated.

Judge Ralph D. Brown of Crete is one of the winning candidates for the state supreme court in the Fourth district, and Judge L. W. Colby of Beatrice is defeated for nomination there, according to virtually complete returns received by The Star on Friday morning.

Thursday's incomplete figures, furnished to Nebraska newspapers by the Associated Press from its Omaha bureau, showed Judge E. E. Good of Wahoo and Judge Colby nominated over Brown. But returns independently compiled Friday morning, which include everything except one precinct in Gage county, show that Brown is high man and Colby a poor third. Here are the totals, with this precinct missing:

Brown, 11,007; Good, 10,630; Colby, 6,835.

Plans are being worked out by various government agencies to secure the distribution of the present coal production to the railroads, it has been announced

Gets a Divorce After 46 Years of Married Life

Ida May Hetrick has been granted a decree of divorce from John W. Hetrick by District Judge W. M. Morning. They were married in Illinois, forty-six years ago, and have lived in Nebraska for thirty-five years. They have eleven children, all grown. Mrs. Hetrick was also awarded $150 alimony, their household goods and piano. She charged her husband with non-support and infidelity. She declared he induced her to sign a deed for the sale of their property and took the money. Mr. Hetrick did not appear personally against his wife in the trial, but had filed an answer denying her charges that he had been keeping another woman, and asked that a divorce decree be awarded to him. He charged his wife with having harrassed and ragged him, and neglecting their home and children.

Hope Obregon Will Make a Statement

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Authoritative intimations have been given that the administration would welcome the Mexican government taking whatever steps it deems necessary to make effective the policies to which President Obregon has given utterance on questions which are impending recognition of that government by the United States.

Hairs Will Vanish After This Treatment

(Toilet Helps.)

You can keep your arms, neck or face free from hair or fizz by the occasional use of plain delatone and in using it you need have no fear of marring or injuring the skin. A thick paste is made by mixing some of the powdered delatone with water. Then spread on the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and all traces of hair have vanished. Be careful, however, to get real delatone and mix fresh.—Advertisement.

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

While the use of gas for lighting dates back for more than a hundred years, gas has been a standard domestic fuel, particularly in our cities, for less than fifty years. Within that remarkably short time, however, gas has come into use for cooking the meals of forty-five million American people, in addition to heating millions of gallons of water each year.

So universal has become its use that if the residents of our large cities were suddenly forced to return to coal instead of gas, it would require nearly all the streets, alleys and vacant lots to store it. Furthermore, coal fires could not be built in apartment houses, because no provision has been made for coal-fire chimneys, and the tenants of our modern buildings would have to camp out in the open in order to get cooked food.

Take away gas service from our big cities, and the next day people would be living like gypsies, in camps around each coal pile!

To the Thinker

Beware of noisy claims and a few specials. They get you nowhere. Remember, Friend Customer, fellow Americans all over the country have emphatically chosen Piggly Wiggly over imitators and competitors. Consider why: Is it logical that an individual store or local group can buy the same grade of groceries at the same prices as a huge national chain.

Each Piggly Wiggly Store buys through its headquarters direct from the manufacturers the same as wholesalers.

Don't be fooled. Trade where everything must be right in price and quality.

LINCOLN CLUB MEETS FAIRBURY ON LANDIS FIELD SATURDAY

LINCOLN CLUB TO RETURN SATURDAY

Manager Buck and Tribe to Perform in Three Games With Coyotes.

Links Come Home in a Tie For Third Place With Elkhorns.

The Links, Capital City entry in the Nebraska state league pennant race, will return to Landis Field Saturday after an eight-day sojourn in foreign pastures. The Links today had a record of four games won in the seven games played on the trip. This places them in a tie with the Norfolk Elkhorns for third place —half a game behind Grand Island and a full game in the rear of the league-leading Beatrice Blues. Lincoln has a chance to make up the difference in the game with Fairbury today.

The local pastimers will make their bow Saturday afternoon in a game with the Fairbury Coyotes which is in the nature of an appetiser for the doubleheader with the Fairbury gentlemen arranged for Sunday afternoon.

After tangling with the Coyotes for two days the Links will travel down to Beatrice Monday for a three game tussle with the Blues. Following the games in the Gage county metropolis the Lincoln club will return to Landis Field for a six days' stay in which Grand Island and Norfolk will be the headliners.

Wood Joins Club

Dick Wood is scheduled to join the club Saturday and get into action against the Coyotes. Dick has been keeping in trim by pastiming with Friend and Exeter. In the game against Crete this week, Wood connected for a circuit wallop and helped shut out the Cretans, 5 to 0.

"Irish" Carrig wrenched a leg in the game at Fairbury Wednesday and was not in uniform Thursday afternoon. Carrig's place was filled by Ferguson, a Fairbury semi-pro pastimer who played with Beatrice in the state tourney last September. Ferguson got a single in four trips to the plate Thursday. Carrig will probably be out of the game for several days.

Harry Smith, former Hastings manager, announced as ready to join the Lincoln club early this week, has hooked up with the Norfolk Elkhorns as utility performer and will not don the Lincoln duds.

The Links had their batting clothes on at Fairbury Thursday afternoon. Five of the thirteen hits secured by the Beltzar clan went for extra bases, the list including a home run by the "Husky" Gibson and a triple and two-play swat by Bool.

| St. Paul M. E. | 10 | 2 | 8 | .200 |

Grace Methodists and Warren Methodists played to an 8 to 8 tie Thursday evening in a seven inning Sunday school league contest at Rock Island park. The two teams remain in a tie for first place in the Sunday school loop as a result of the game.

Warren was leading 7 to 0 at the start of the seventh inning. The Grace nine came back strong and raced in eight runs. Warren scored in its slice of the inning one run in its slice of the inning to even the count. The game was then called on account of darkness.

The Second Baptists defeated St. Paul M. E 10 to 1 at Landis Field. Plymouth Congregationals won a 6 to 5 victory over the Westminster Presbyterians.

Summer Nebraskan Trims Grid Class

The Summer Nebraskan baseball team defeated the Football Class nine in the University of Nebraska summer school league Thursday evening, 3 to 1. The game went five innings and was a pitchers' battle between Hall of the Journalists and Meents of the Gridsters. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Football Class | 0 | 0 | 1 |
| Sum'r Nebraskan | 1 | 0 | 1 |

Batteries—Meents and Daugherty, Hall and Garnick.

Deshler Defeats Geneva Ball Nine

(Special to The Star.)

GENEVA, Neb., July 21.—Deshler defeated Geneva here Wednesday afternoon, 5 to 4. Heavy hitting on the part of both teams featured the game but fast snappy fielding kept the score down.

The hitting of H. Gewecke and Cherry factored in winning the game for Deshler. H. Gewecke of Deshler and Schutt of Geneva hit for a circuit clouts.

Batteries: Geneva—Williford and Black; Deshler—Johnson and Sowers.

CLOSE MATCHES IN NET TOURNEY

Stanton Runs Elliott Close; Seymour, McBride and McProud Win.

SEMI-FINAL MATCHES.

Singles.

Don Elliott vs. Gregg McBride.

B. E. McProud vs. Clyde Seymour.

Doubles.

Gustafson-Grossnickle vs. Stanton-McBride

McProud-Fleming vs. Northwall-Lau.

Four players now remain to fight it out in the semi-finals for the 1922 tennis championship of Lincoln. The quartet who weathered the fourth round play comprises Don Elliott, 1921 champion, B. E. McProud, a former city champion, Clyde Seymour, member of the championship double team of last year, and Gregg McBride.

The doubles tourney also went into the semi-final round. Teams to meet today in the next to last round are McProud-Fleming, Northwall-Lau, McBride-Stanton, Gustafson-Grossnickle.

The Thursday matches were filled with interest. Every contest was hardfought in singles and doubles and the crowd of racquet fans who witnessed the games from the bleachers were treated to an interesting afternoon of tennis.

Stanton Loses Hard Match.

Don Elliott was given a hard fight by Joe Stanton. The University Place veteran lost in straight sets but forced the 1921 champ to extend himself in both sets to win 6-4, 8-6.

Stanton eliminated Grossnickle 6-2, 1-6, 6-3 in a gruelling match early Thursday morning and won the right to play Elliott in the fourth round. The Elliott-Stanton match was one of the most interesting of the afternoon. The pair played every point to the limit, Stanton giving Elliott the closest run of the tourney.

B. E. McProud established himself as a favorite to win the lower bracket by disposing of Fred Archerd, Nebraska intercollegiate champion. McProud smashing volleys proved too much for his younger opponent.

McBride defeated Weaverling by a rally staged in the middle of the second set. The former city champion won the first with ease and was well along in the second set when McBride staged a spurt and pulled the set out of the fire.

Seymour Wins Match.

Clyde Seymour and R. Gustafson staged a warm three-set match which the former won. The second set was won by Gustafson, 8-6, after the two had played a long string of deuce points. The third and deciding set went to Seymour, 6-2.

In the doubles the McProud-Fleming vs. Weaverling-Elliott match proved the feature of the card. McProud and Fleming won in straight sets. The defeat of Elliott and Weaverling 1920 double champs, makes certain that a new doubles team will win the 1922 trophy.

The placement shots of Dean McProud and Elliott's service featured the match. After losing the first set, 6-4, Elliott and Weaverling tried desperately to capture the second, but lost to the University Place after deucing the games three times, 9-7.

Youngsters Show Class.

Kermit Yetter and Mark Crewdson, a pair of youngsters from University Place gave McBride and Stanton a close run in the doubles competition, McBride and Stanton won 7-5, 6-4 the youngsters, however, uncorking a brilliant style of game which marks them as comers.

Lau-Northwall defeated Reese-Bauer and Grossnickle-Gustafson won from Magee-Amos in the other double matches. Thursday scores follow.

SINGLES.
Fourth Round.

Don Elliott defeated Joe Stanton, 6-4, 8-6.

B. E. McProud defeated Fred Archerd, 1-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Gregg McBride defeated Ralph Weaverling, 1-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Clyde Seymour defeated R. Gustafson, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

DOUBLES.
Third Round.

B. E. McProud and Randolph Fleming defeated Ralph Weaverling and Don Elliott, 6-4, 9-7.

Joe Stanton and Gregg McBride defeated Kermit Yetter and Mark Crewdson, 7-5, 6-4.

R. Gustafson and E. Grossnickle defeated McGee-Amos, 6-2 6-1.

Northwall-Lau defeated Reese-Bauer in straight sets.

Cambridge Club Defeats Oberlin

(Special to The Star.)

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., July 21.—The Cambridge baseball team defeated Berlin, Kas., 3 to 9. It was the first defeat of the season for the Kansas team.

Ed Hugg, pitching for Cambridge, let Oberlin down with three scratch hits.

Friend Shuts Out Crete Ball Club

(Special to The Star.)

FRIEND, Neb., July 21.—Friend shut out Crete this week, 5 to 0. Fussel, on the mound for Friend, bested Dull, ex-state league twirler, allowing but one hit and striking out thirteen. Score by innings:

| | R | H |
|---|---|---|
| Crete | 0 | 1 |
| Friend | 1 | 7 |

Batteries—Dull and Sheetak; Fussell and Tollifson; struck out—by Russell 13; by Dull, 2. Home run—Wood.

Friend plays at Seward July 23 and Milford comes here July 26.

Touching the Bases.

Number 26 for Rogers Hornsby came with a man aboard in the sixth inning heralded the passing of Marquard and ultimately the Card's 5 to 4 victory over the Braves in ten innings.

The poor, broken down Indians! All they have been able to do is to win 11 straight baseball games, the eleventh being an 8 to 2 victory in which Uhle pitched the Senators silly.

Although again outhit by the Reds, our noble champion Giants slipped under the wire to a 7 to 3 victory through their ability to assail Donohue when a safety meant something.

Pinnock lefthanded his way to a 6 to 2 decision over Faber and the White Sox.

The Yanks kept hot on the pennant trial by scoring one of their very few victories over the Tigers, 5 to 1.

The disasterous western trip of the Dodgers was marked by their second victory since abandoning home cooking. Burleigh Grimes outlasted Kauffman and the Cubs, 11 to 7.

Vangilder tied the Athletics into knots in scoring a 4 to 0 win for the Browns.

For no reason at all, the Phils carried the Pirates to twelve innings before yielding gracefully to the inevitable 2 to 1. It was a fine pitcher's duel between Glazner and Winert.

GOLF ENTRIES TO CLOSE SATURDAY

Additional Opportunity Given All Lincoln Players to Enter Play for City Title.

The entry list for the annual city golf tournament will be held open until Saturday noon according to announcement made Friday by Chairman Dee Eiche, in charge of the tournament play.

Due to some misunderstanding a number of Lincoln players were under the impression that the entries did not close until late and the time has been extended to allow all city players to have a chance at the play for the city title.

Play in the qqualifying round will start Saturday and continue through Sunday. The sixty-four players to turn in the lowest scores will be placed in four flights, the golfers having the sixteen low cards playing in the championship fight.

The golf committee has provided an attractive array of prizes and the tournament promises to be the best in local golf annals. Entries will be received by Norman Sommers, Lincoln Country club professional; Hale Clark, Antelope park professional; Dee Eiche, chairman of committee; Lawlor Sporting Goods, Lincoln Sporting Goods.

Close Finishes Feature Thursday Circuit Program

(Associated Press)

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 21.—Close finishes in which the winners of the four events were crowded all the way and forced to go the limit in order to annex each heat was the feature of Thursday's grand circuit racing bill.

The big upset was in the 2.07 trot, when Main Lick, the favorite, finished fifth in the three heats with Pop Geers, Peter June leading. Best time, 2.04 1-2.

After winning the first mile of the $3,000 Columbia hotel purse for 2:13 trotters with Laurel Hall, Walter Cox was obliged to draw the eastern colt on account of lameness after which Tommy Murphy drove Princess Etawah to victory in straight heats. Best time 2:06 1-4.

The best time in the afternoon was made in the 2:12 pace, when Abbacy, the favorite, travelled the second heat in 2:04 1-2. The Thomas entry took the race in straight heats with King Bingen and Robert M. taking turns at hurrying the winner along down the stretch. Best time, 2:04 1-2.

Lee Tide and Noble Argot were even up favorites in the 2:19 trot. The Cox entry travelled true to expectations by taking two of three heats, finishing second to Frederick K in the opening mile while all the Geers horse could do was trail the pace, except the second mile, when the Memphis entry came in second in a closely bunched finish. Best time, 2:07 1-2.

YANKEES SHAKE DETROIT JINX

After Losing Eight Straight To Tigers; New York Wins Game.

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 21.—After losing eight straight games to Detroit, the New York Americans yesterday reversed the score of Wednesday and defeated the Tigers, 5 to 1.

The Yankees won the game in the sixth inning, when they scored two runs after two were out, on singles by Meusel, Ruth, Schang and Ward. Ward clinches the game in the eighth. Allen he hit a home run off Ehmke with Meusel and Ruth on base.

May pitched a splendid game for New York and was aided in keeping down Detroit's score by three double Plays. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Detroit | 1 | 8 | 1 |
| New York | 5 | 9 | 0 |

Batteries—Oldham, Ehmke and Woodall, Mays and Schang.

Red Sox Trim Chicago.

BOSTON, Jul. 21.—Dinan's single with two out in the last of the tenth following E. Collins' error of Scott and Harris' sacrifice gave Boston a 3 to 2 victory over Chicago yesterday. Hooper's bad throw to third let in one Boston run. Sheckle's homer was a long drive over the left field fence in the seventh. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Chicago | 2 | 6 | 1 |
| Boston | 3 | 9 | 0 |

Batteries—Faber, Hodge and Schalk, Pennock and Walters.

Cleveland Wins Eleventh.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Cleveland recorded its eleventh consecutive victory yesterday when it defeated Washington, 8 to 5, in the second game of the series. The visitors knocked Erickson out of the box in the fifth when Jamieson circuited a home run over the right field fence with Uhle, who had tripled, on base. Every Cleveland player made at least one hit. McInnis was the leader with three in as many times at bat. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Cleveland | 8 | 12 | 0 |
| Washington | 5 | 7 | 1 |

Batteries—Uhle and O'Neill, Erickson, Zachary and Picinich.

Vangilder Blanks Athletics.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Vangilder held Philadelphia to five hits yesterday and St. Louis won the second game of the series, 4 to 0. Four double plays in the first seven innings kept the Athletics from reaching second only twice—one man each being Vangilder during the three innings. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| St. Louis | 4 | 7 | 0 |
| Philadelphia | 0 | 5 | 1 |

Batteries—Vangilder and Severeid, Rommel and Bruggy.

BUFFALOES WIN TWO FROM TULSA

Omaha Takes Double Bill From Oilers by Pair of Late Rallies.

OMAHA, Neb., July 21.—Omaha won a doubleheader from Tulsa yesterday by staging belated rallies in both games and beating the Oilers, 2 to 1 and 5 to 4. Tipple held Tulsa to four hits in the first game. Lamb got three of the four hits. The scores:

First game—

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Tulsa | 1 | 4 | 2 |
| Omaha | 2 | 9 | 1 |

Batteries—Boehler and Crosby; Tipple and Spencer.

Second game—

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Tulsa | 4 | 8 | 2 |
| Omaha | 5 | 6 | 2 |

Batteries—Lukanovic and Crosby, Tipple and Spencer.

Boosters Humble Witches.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 21.—Des Moines hit Musser freely yesterday and won from Wichita, 13 to 5. The game was marked by sensational fielding on the part of both teams. The score:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Wichita | 5 | 12 | 3 |
| Des Moines | 13 | 18 | 0 |

Batteries—Musser, Gregory and Griffith; Gross and Wilson.

Jodes Stage Late Rally.

DENVER, July 21.—Gross weakened in the eighth and St. Joseph counted four runs and won by a 6 to 5 score. Denver collected eight hits off Haid in seven innings. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| St. Joseph | 6 | 9 | 0 |
| Denver | 5 | 9 | 3 |

Batteries—Haid, Hovlik and Grabowski; Gross and Parker.

Mattick's Homer Wins.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., July 21.—Mattick's home run in the ninth inning after two were out, scored two ahead of him and Sioux City defeated Oklahoma City yesterday, 14 to 12. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Sioux City | 14 | 13 | 0 |
| Okla. City | 12 | 18 | 2 |

Batteries—Payne and Fisher, Williams, Davis, Tesar and Query.

McArthur Signs To Meet Everett

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 21.—Earl McArthur of Sox City, Ia., was today matched with Stanley Everett of Peking, Ill., for a ten round boxing match at Camp Grant, August 2.

LINCOLN EVENS COYOTE SERIES

Links Rally in Seventh and Score Four Runs to Win Game.

FAIRBURY, Neb., July 21.—Lincoln scored four runs in the seventh inning yesterday and defeated Fairbury, 8 to 5. Bledsoe was on the hillock for the Coyotes. He held the Links to five hits and four runs until the fatal seventh.

Lincoln collected thirteen hits, including a home run by Gibson, three-base hit by Bool and two-baggers by Dye, McCoy and Bool. The score:

Lincoln.

CARDINALS GIVEN SCARE BY BRAVES

Rickey Club Goes Ten innings to Nose Out Boston in Tight Game.

(Associated Press.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 21.—Rogers Hornsby, who made his twenty-sixth run of the season with one on in the sixth inning, featured the Cardinals' 8 to 4 victory in ten innings over Boston here yesterday. The drive was made off Rube Marquard. Del Gainer's single with three on in the tenth, won the game. In the tenth, Manager Mitchell used three pitchers. The last two pitched to only one man. Braxton hit Fournier and Gainer singled off Oeschger to end the game. Flack also hit a homer in the second inning. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Boston | 4 | 9 | 1 |
| St. Louis | 5 | 11 | 2 |

Batteries—Marquard, McQuillan, Braxton, Oeschger and Gibson, Sherdan and Ainsmith, Clemons.

Dodgers Wallop Cubs.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Brooklyn defeated Chicago, 11 to 7, in a hectic game yesterday, it being the second game the Dodgers have won on their present invasion. The wildness of Kauffmann, coupled with errors by Zeb Terry and some free hitting, accounted for the early lead of the visitors and made the game safe by hitting Stueland hard behind his passes. Score by innings.

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Brooklyn | 11 | 16 | 0 |
| Chicago | 7 | 11 | 2 |

Batteries—Grimes and Miller; Stueland, Kauffmann, Eubanks and O'Farrell.

Pirates Out of Slump.

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—The Pirates triumphed again yesterday over the Phillies, 2 to 1, but had to travel twelve innings. In the last of the twelfth Glazner doubled and scored on Maranville's sacrifice and Bigbee's single after Carey had been purposely walked. Score by innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Phila | 1 | 9 | 1 |
| Pitts. | 2 | 10 | 4 |

Batteries—Weinert and Henline, Glazner and Gooch.

Giants Bunch Binkies.

CINCINNATI, O., July 21.—The Giants won the second game of the series from the Reds yesterday, 7 to 3. Donohue allowed only one hit in the first four innings, but was pounded hard in the fifth, sixth and seventh and his support wavered in critical times. Ryan pitched a strong game. Three fast double plays helped to keep down the Reds' score. Score innings:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| New York | 7 | 10 | 0 |
| Cincinnati | 3 | 12 | 4 |

Batteries—Ryan and Snyder, Donohue, Gillespie and Wingo.

BRINGING UP FATHER

BY GEO. McMANUS

Market Quotations

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

OMAHA, Neb., July 21.

CATTLE—Receipts, 2,200. Fat cattle showed further losses of fully 10 to 15c and in extreme 25c from yesterday's low time. Demand was indifferent and movement almost lifeless. Since the best time of the week, long fed steers are from 25c to 50c lower, while short fed and yearlings have slumped anywhere from 50 to 75c more than losing the advance noted early in the week. Similar declines have been noted in she stock. Feeders, which advanced 25c or more the first part of the week, are closing slow in sympathy with the break on killers.

Thursday's quotations on cattle: Beef steers, $8.50@10.50; steers and heifers, $8.75@10.10; cows, $3.00@8.75; heifers, $4.75@9.00; stockers and feeders, $8.40, bulls, stags, etc., $4.25@8.00; calves, $6.00@9.75.

HOGS—9,000. On comparatively light receipts today trading was fairly active on all grades at prices ruling generally steady to 10c higher. Light hogs sold largely at $10.25@10.50 with a top price of $10.55. Medium weight butchers sold largely at $9.75@10.25; strong weights at $9.25@9.75, with bulk of good hogs at $9.25@10.40. Heavy mixed and packing grades sold largely at $7.75@8.75, with extreme heavy rough kinds at $7.50@7.75.

SHEEP—Receipts, 7,200. On a liberal supply of lambs today, which proved too heavy for the trade to absorb on the closing session of the week, prices ruled $5 to 50c lower on all killing classes. Fat lambs sold largely at $12.00@12.25 with a top price of $12.50. Feeding lambs were dull in sympathy with the decline on fat lambs with best quality quoted around $12.25. Sheep were 25 to 50c lower, best ewes here today selling at $7.00.

Thursdays quotations on sheep: Spring lambs, $12.90.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 21.

Offerings of leading stocks were in excess of the demand today, with consequent reactions in many issues, particularly industrials and specialties. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

Aside from fractional recessions in several of the leading rails and coalers, initial quotations in the stock market today indicated further indifference on the part of traders to the more serious situation. Mexican Petroleum, Gulf States Steel and American Ice at gains of 1 to 2 points were the constructive features with renewed buying of equipments, coppers, leathers and textiles in moderate volume. Studebaker continued to show further selling pressure and several of the less prominent motors were fractionally lower. United States Rubber lost a point probably as a result of reports of a forthcoming reduction in the crude product. Foreign exchanges were slightly higher on the better tone of the London market.

In the first hour's fairly large dealings, Mexican Petroleum extended its advance to 3 points and a few other leaders made additional gains. Selling of specialties then set in and many early gains were cancelled. DuPont fell 4 points, pressure against the motor shares increased and domestic oils, especially Standard Oil and Pure Oil, became heavy. Steels and equipments also fell back and rails, including several of the coalers, were reactionary. Coppers as a group held firm with Mercantile Marine preferred, and Industrial Alcohol. Call money opened and renewed into next week at 4 per cent.

Shorts engaged in a general raid on the list at midday. Mexican Petroleum suffered an extreme reaction of 5½ points. Standard Oil of New Jersey showed a loss of 3½ points, and Crucible, Studebaker, United States Rubber and United Fruit fell 1 to 2 points. Atlantic Coast Line and Louisville and Nashville at gains of 1½ and 3 points respectively, were marked exceptions to the lower trend.

Prices rallied feebly on the strength by Atlantic Coast Line and Louisville & Nashville, but the market later lapsed into dullness. Closing was heavy.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 21.

WHEAT—Fresh upturns in the price of wheat resulted today from the apparently unpromising settlement of the rail and coal strikes. Early transactions showed that bears were at a decided disadvantage, notwithstanding that receipts here were liberal, the estimated total being 450 carloads. Complaints of car shortage at rural points continued, and hedging sales were quickly absorbed by shipping interests here. The opening, which ranged from ⅛ to ½c higher, with September $1.12⅜@1.12½ and December $1.14⅛@1.14¼, was followed by moderate further gains and then something of a reaction.

Subsequently, new export business on a large scale was announced as having been done here and at Kansas City, but selling pressure suddenly increased after midday, and with support lacking the market underwent a sharp setback.

Heavy selling on the part of a house with foreign connections caused wheat prices to tumble today in the last hour of the board of trade session. Increased arrivals of wheat in the southwest together with bearish crop reports from the northwest gave impetus to the drop in values. The close was unsettled, 2c net lower to ⅛c advance, with September $1.10⅝@1.10¾ and December $1.11⅞@1.12.

CORN—Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. After opening ⅛ to ½c higher, September 64⅝@64⅞c, the corn market strengthened a little more.

Brisk export business helped the corn market upward until wheat prices began to recede. Then the corn market weakened and the close was easy, at a shade to ⅝c net decline, with September 64¼ to 64¼@⅜c.

OATS—Oats started unchanged to ⅝c higher, September 36c, and held close to the initial figures.

PROVISIONS—Provisions went upward with hogs.

FIFTEEN STRIKERS PLACED ON TRIAL

County Attorney Dismisses One Complaint and Files Another.

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., July 21.—Indications at the opening of the preliminary hearing of the fifteen striking shopmen at 10 a. m., today were that it would drag for many hours. The state announced the names of Twenty-five witnesses. Four hundred people crowded into the district court room. Some twenty special deputies were on duty to preserve order, but signs were that their presence was not needed.

After Justice Kidder had taken the bench, assistant county attorney John Gumb dismissed the original compplaint and filed a new one before Justice Dame, who was present, and Justice Dame took the bench.

The new complaint charges two counts of abduction and exhorting northwestern employes not to work for the railroad, and omits charges of assault and beating. This is a modification of the seriousness of the alleged offense. Attorney Bigelow of Omaha, representing the defendants, demanded excision of witnesses from the court room. The defendants lined up befre the court and pleaded not guilty and the testimony began.

Commencement at Wesleyan University

The mid-semester summer commencement of Nebraska Wesleyan universit ywas held Friday morning at the First Methodist church of University Place.

The graduating procession was led by members of the Junior class who wore the university colors in caps. The procession consisted of members o fthe faculty, the speaker of the day and the graduating class.

Seats were held on the platform by Chancellor I. B. Schreckengast, Vice Chancellor G. W. Isham; Rev. Herbert Swann Wilkinson, speaker of the day and Deans D. E. McPround and Carbon Witte. The speaker was introduced b ythe chancellor.

Invocation was spoken by the chancellor.

Invocation was spoken by the chancellor. The degrees were conferred and diplomas and certificates were also presented by Chancellor Schreckengast.

narrowing the gap between himself and H. B. Flaharty of Omaha. McDonald has cut Fleharty's lead 200 votes, and the latter is but 259 ahead now.

Bryan 3,000 to The Good.

C. W. Bryan's plurality for governor in the democratic primary has passed 3,000, with a strong probability that it will exceed 3,500 at the windup. In 1,811 precincts reported, the vote stands:

Bryan, 27,000; Butler, 23,958; Norton 18,777; Maupin, 6,594.

For United States senator, democratic, these were the totals Friday afternoon, in 1,826 precincts:

Hitchcock, 47,036; Shroyer, 15,957; Monahan, 9,532.

Republican figures on the same office, gathered from 1,777 precincts, are:

Howell, 37,986; Jefferis, 24,631; Davis, 24,092; Gustafson, 17,242; John 4,321; Yeiser, 3,405.

Cummins Leading in Fourth.

H. B. Cummins of Seward has again taken the lead in the Fourth district democratic congressional race. He has 3,016 votes as against 2,906 for his opponent, C. P. Fall of Beatrice in returns from 152 precincts. There are 83 precincts still missing.

The Associated Press says that Cummins is definitely assured of the nomination.

For the short term republican nomination in the Sixth, A. R. Humphrey has a safe lead over his two competitors, the vote being in about one-fourth of the precincts.

R. H. Thorpe of Lincoln has a plurality over P. A. Barrows, also of this city, for the short term republican nomination in the First. With about 60 precincts still out, Thorpe has 3,784, Barrows 3,646, and Shike 2,388.

Attorney General and Treasurer.

For attorney general the standing of candiates at the present time is as follows:

Republican (1,555 precincts)—Spillman, 27,267; Dorsey, 26,863; Thompson, 20,665; Porter, 17,242.

Democratic (1,653 precincts)—Fleharty, 15884; McDonald, 15,625; Bollen, 12,259; Jones, 9,759; Meier, 7,935.

McDonald was the candidate for attorney general endorsed by a number of "harmony clubs" organized in various cities shortly before the primaries. This endorsement appears to have made him the leading candidate in most counties, but Fleharty is still ahead by reason of the large vote he got in Douglas.

The republican vote on state treasurer in 1,533 precincts is.

Stebbins, 24,041; Robinson, 23,331; Hutchinson, 18,418; Myers 15,783; Bee, 9,468.

Western Nebraska is now being heard from on this office, and it is there that Stebbins' principal strength lies. Robinson has polled a good vote over the state, due to his wide acquaintance among the county treasurers and other public officials, he being a state examiner of county treasuries.

Five Accidents Within a Day; No One Injured

Five accidents were reported to the police Thursday evening and Friday morning. G. E. Hager, 1980 C street, reported to the police Thursday afternoon that while driving east on D street, near Fourteenth street, he was forced to dodge aside when C. W. Larson drove up going south on Fourteenth street, and that as a result of the dodging, to prevenut a collision, he struck a post and damaged his car. George W. Wagner, Central hotel, reported that a motorcycle ran into the side of his car at Seventeenth and G street Thursday afternoon and damaged it. He did not find out the name of the cyclist.

Mrs. Stake of 145 South Twenty-eighth street, reported that at 4.15 p. m. Thursday, she was backing from the curb at Twelfth and N street, and that her car collided with another car and that both cars were slightly damaged but no one was hurt.

Earl Hill, 412 South Eleventh street, reported to the police that he was riding on a wheel at Eleventh and L streets about 4:15 p. m. Thursday and that a car driven by John Clouse, 1550 North Thirty-second street hit hi mand broke his wheel. Nn one was injured.

Tom Barker, 708 Benton street, reported to the police that at 8:15 p. m. Friday, his truck which was loaded with apples and standing at Ninth and P streets, was struck by a truck owned by the J. F. Garvey companyl 314 South Ninth street, and several bushels of apples were spilled from his truck.

Green Has Lead Of Six Votes Over Atkinson

Lancaster county has two candidates whose nomination hangs in the balance. They are J. Reid Green and Ira E. Atkinson, republican candidate for state representative from the Thirty-fourth district.

A semi-official count shows that Green has only sox more votes than Atkinson. Green's vote is 532 and Atkinson's, 526. They were the only republican candidates for the office, and the nominee will be opposed on the democratic ticket in the fall election by J. H. (Tower and Power) Allen, who had no opposition in the primaries.

The decision in the neck-and-neck race between Messrs. Green and Atkinson will be determined when the absent voters ballots cast by persons who could vote for state representative from the Thirty-fourth district. Saturday's count may swing the nomination to Atkinson, or strengthen Greens' vote.

STRIKE OUTLOOK IS MORE GLOOMY

quickly if the country is to escape what is gloomily depicted as the worst winter in its history.

It is the rail strike, however, that is causing the president and his advisers the most immediate concern. Serious as the coal strike is, the administration feels that temporarily, at least, the burden has been shared with the governors of the coal producing states and there is little the federal government can do but mark time and see if the operators can make good on their promise to produce coal if furnished pprotection for the diggers.

No definite time has been set for the troops to move. It was stated emphatically, however, in cabinet quarters today that if at the end of two weeks there has not been coal enough mined to piece out the now dwindling suppply and if there are not any good prospects ahead, President Harding will resort to other means.

In this contingency, two courses appear open:

1—An appeal to the operators themselves to grant the miners' demands until the coal commission which the president intends to appoint, can get going and produce something of a permanent character.

2—Government seizure of the nonproducing mines on the assurance that miners will work for the government on the scale that existed prior to the strike.

The next two weeks will be the test, it was declared. By that time, if the experiment fails, the coal reserves of the country will be so depleted as to compel government seizure, one cabinet officer predicted.

Considerable significance was attached today to an almost secret meeting in Washington late last night between a group of eastern executives and three members of the senate interstate commerce committee, Senator Cummins of Iowa, author of the transportation act and father of the railroad labor board; Watson of Indiana and Kellogg of Minnesota.

Senator Cummins, when the meeting broke up after midnight said it had been held to discuss the possibility of remedying th epresent strike situation through legislation.

It is understood that the executives were told with some bluntness that the present grave crisis was no time to insist stubbornly on certain points when the vast majority of other railroads was ready to concede these points.

Senator Cummins, Watson and Kellogg went to the white house just before the cabinet meeting this afternoon to report to the president their failure to relieve the situation through conferences with the railroad executives.

"The situation does not look hopeful," Senator Cummins said, but it was learned that other confrences would be held between interested senators and th reailroad xecutives.

Cummins said he did not consider any legislativve step would be practicable in improving the ppresent situation.

Work of Professionals.

Captain Walter Anderson expressed the opinion Friday noon after a busy morning filled with investigation of the different robberies, that a gang of professional burglars and second story men had dropped in to visit Lincoln.

The three safes that were broken into were all of the same make, and Captain Anderson believes that the men who forced them open were well acquainted with that make of the safes and had picked these safes to operate on.

The mode of operation was the same in each instance. The combination know of the safe was knocked off, and then the interior combination was punched out by means of a chisel.

The burglars were most businesslike in their work. They broke nothing except what was necessary to open the safe, and when they were through, they shut the safes up again. They were careful to leave no finger prints or litter.

At the furniture store they secured entrance through a window on the fire escape on the third floor. They jimmied the window. At the Little block, they got into the office by jimmying the door.

It is the similar mark of the jimmy on the rear window of the Economy Clothing store that leads Captain Walter Anderson to believe that the men who broke open the safes were the same men who robbed the clothing store and probably the same men who stole the cars, into which they loaded their loot.

Put Loot In Suitcases.

Patrolman White discovered the clothing store robbery at about 4:30 a. m. Friday while making his round through the alley. The police at once called Samuel Levy, the proprietor. It was a sorry spectacle that greeted the owner when he reached the scene. The burglars had taken most of his leather bags and suitcases and had filled them with goods from the counters and shelves.

Suits, coats, caps, shirts, hosiery, neckties and collars had been scooped up. One glass case at the front of the store had been literally cleaned of all goods it contained.

Watchman Saw Nothing

W. B. Bostick, 828 South Seventeenth street, is temporary watchman at the Perkins-Huffman store, in the absence on vacation of the regular nightwatchman.

Mr. Bostick visited the store nine times during Thursday night at hourly intervals, being there last at 4:45 a. m., but found nothing wrong.

The robbery was discovered about 7:45 a. m. Friday when E. L. Perkins came to the store and started to open the safes in preparation for the day's business.

"The burglars were apparently in a great hurry," Mr. Perkins said, "for they didn't bother to pick out several dollars' worth of nickels and dimes out of the bottom of the drawer from which they got the money. They also left a number of personal checks which were in there."

At the Little block the robbery was also not discovered until the office was opened about 8 o'clock in the morning.

As soon as the police received reports of the different burglaries, they notified the Omaha police department and surrounding towns to be on the lookout for the burglars.

Three Cars Stolen

Mrs. John Lonam, 1617 L street, reported to the police Friday morning that somebody got into their garage some time after 12:30 o'clock Thursday night, and stole a 1918 Buick six automobile. The license number of the car was 2-8592.

J. E. Dudley left his Cole sedan standing for a few minutes at Thirteenth and U streets, and when he returned, according to his report to the police the car was gone. The license number was 2-3131.

The Ford touring car of Edward O. Banion, 847 South Twenty-fourth street, was stolen from Fifteenth and O streets. Mr. Banion reported to the police. The theft occurred some time between 7 and 9 p. m. Thursday.

While the police were investigating the burglaries Friday, State Sheriff Hyers was busy working on the automobile thefts.

The police also received a call from the Concordia, Kas., sheriff to the effect that a 5-passenger Oakland touring car, license D-330 Kansas, was stolen there Thursday.

Captain Walter Anderson said Friday noon that he had learned that two cars were seen entering the alley behind the Economy Clothing Store about 3 a. m. Friday. Tracks of an automobile are plainly visible in the rear of the store.

One Car Recovered

The Buick car stolen from John Lonam was found by the police Friday noon near Eleventh and High streets. It had evidently been abandoned by the thieves, after some mechanical breakdown. Its motor would not start, but the car was otherwise in good condition.

WRITES LETTER TO CITIZENS

The last section of his letter follows, in full:

Obligated as the railroads, are, to render service to the public as a common carrier, the officers are making all possible effort to secure mechanical employes to rechuit the forces to sufficient number to perform necessary service in the mechanical department to comply with the state and national laws and the orders of the interstate commerce commission. In this the railroads are entitled to adequate and reliable police protection to insure the peaceful operation of the property. We have not had this at Havelock. The mayor and four of the councilmen of your city are former employes of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad now on strike. Your mayor has appointed ten or twelve other former Chicago, Burlington & Quincy employes now on strike to do police duty. Where? On the streets of Havelock, and says "they are peace officers." For what purpose? If the former employes of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad now on strike were peaceful, law abiding citizens, there would be no need of peace officers or extra police on your streets, and no need for railroad guards, deputy sheriffs or deputy United States marshals to guard the property of your chief tax payer or its employes in the peaceful pursuit of their labors.

Largest Payroll,

The Burlington railroad has the largest payroll of any industry or institution in Havelock and has an invested interest in your city of hundreds of thousands of dollars and had only this year contemplated further expenditures that would increase the facilities and employ more men. As a business proposition for your consideration, I submit; is it wise or consistent to invest capital to establish improve and increase an industry where the sentiment of the majority of the employes and citizens are hostile to the mutual interests of the industry and other business interests of the community, during troublous times causing emergency effort and excessive expenditres to render service to the public and comply with existing laws? Would you undertake to continue your business under similar conditions or wold you "look around" for a more favorable location, where you would be insured two things: First, an even chance with other investors to operate your business on an economical basis. Second, the police protection for yourself, your employes and your property that you are entitled to under the constitution of the United States and the state as a tax payer and law abiding citizen?

I have written you at some considerable length, but the interests of the citizens of Havelock, the Burlington railroad and the public are so interwoven, future development uncertain, and dependent on the result of our efforts to secure peaceable possession and operation of our property that I felt it important and necessary to do so.

Yours sincerely,

W. F. THIEHOFF,
General Manager.

BRIEF FILED IN RECEIVERSHIP OF HOTEL PROPERTIES

Supports Motion for Rehearing In Case of Nebraska Building & Investment Co.

Claim Advanced That Supreme Court Erred In Considering Technicalities.

A voluminous brief in support of a motion for rehearing the appeal in the Nebraska Building and Investment and Hotel company case, was filed late Thursday afternoon in state supreme court, which recently handed down a decision reversing District Judge W. M. Morning's appointment for a receiver and nullifying the sale of the properties, including the Lincoln hotel and the lease on the Fontenelle, by Receiver W. E. Barkley to E. C. Eppley for $1,000,000.

The supreme court based its ruling on the grounds that the trial court had no jurisdiction to appoint a receiver, as notice had not been served on each stockholder, and that the sale of the properties in bulk was not necessary. The latest brief was prepared by Attorneys Good and Good, Boehmer and Boehmer and Fred C. Foster, representing Henry Furrer, Delbert L. Lautenheiser, and John Peterson, in whose name the original suit was brought for seventy-six others. The brief states that only nine stockholders, besides the former officers or directors of the company, complain of the appointment of a receiver.

In asking a rehearing of the appeal before the supreme court, fourteen reasons are advanced.

"A receiver will not be permitted to continue to operate or conduct a business at a loss, and if it is being conducted at a loss it is the duty of the court to order a sale thereof," says the brief.

Necessity For Sale.

"The hotel properties could not have been sold in separate parcels without a great loss to the stockholders [illegible] or at a sum sufficient to pay the indebtedness of the corporation. The sale of the properties before final judgment was made necessary by reason of the desperate financial circumstances of the corporations and the imminent peril of losing the Fontenelle hotel lease by forfeiture and the pressing need to pay off other indebtedness to avoid immediate bankruptcy."

The attorneys for the stockholders argue that a court of equity has inherent jurisdiction to appoint a receiver for a corporation when it is being wrecked by mismanagement, where the objects of the corporation have become impossible of attainment. They assert that a corporation is a legal entity and that notice of an application for a receivership if the corporation is binding upon all stockholders, and that notice to the stockholders is unnecessary.

The mere appointment of a receiver of a corporation does not dissolve it, states the brief, and the sale of the corporate property by the receiver was a judicial sale, and the method, terms [illegible] and all other proceedings were in the sound discretion of the trial court, in the absence of any statute fixing such terms of notice.

Validity of Judgments.

Several dissensions are taken from Judge Morning's decision, because it did not determine the validity of judgments against Frank E. Schaad, corporation president, and because it does not determine the validity of the court cancelling the stock issued to the former officers. Notwithstanding the violation of the state constitution contained in the condition in the articles of incorporation, the decision does not determine whether the owners of preferred stock had a voice in the management, the brief asserts.

"How long will the efforts of the fraudulent promoters of the corporation be encouraged?" inquire the appellees' attorneys, and conclude their brief with this statement:

"A careful reading of the authorities cited show that the courts generally look to the merits of receivership controversies and particularly with reference to the sales by the receivers and if it appears that substantial justice is being done, and if the action of the trial court in the appointment of a receivership and in ordering a sale of the property has been for the benefit of the interested parties and the prejudice of none, such action will be sustained.

The courts do not look for technical errors in the proceedings or for technical objections to the sale [illegible] for the sole purpose of setting aside such sale and the appointment of the receiver. They look first to the merit of the matter and if it appears that it was necessary that justice be done that a receiver be appointed and that the property [illegible] was sold for all that it would in all probability bring in any event, and that it was for the best interests for the parties that the property be sold they overlook all errors in the proceedings or objections to the sale. In all cases, before the courts will listen to objections to sales by receivers, they first insist that the objector must show that he will be prejudiced by such sale.

Saving For Stockholders.

"When these proceedings were instituted it appeared that the stockholders would receive from 25 to 30 cents on the dollar. Then the attorneys for the plaintiffs took some pride in believing that they had accomplished something, which as yet had not been accomplished in the many failures of corporations ensuing after the late high finance period. In looking over the other failures for the past several years it is found that nothing whatever saved for any stockholders and in most instances not enough for the creditors.

"In the present case we felt that this was one instance where a little would be saved for the stockholders and were sorry that the receivership proceedings had not been instituted earlier, for the facts developed that had a receiver been appointed a year sooner a great deal more would have been saved" [illegible] and had the appointment been delayed for a week longer it is doubtful whether anything could have been saved."

Will Be Given Dyes As Pay For Occupying Rhine

PARIS, July 21.—The American government would receive its quota of German dyes amounting to more than $3,000,000 arually as part payment for maintaining its army on the Rhine under the terms of a plan which now is being worked out by the American government with the aid of the reparations commission. All that remains to put the plan into effect is the final approval of some of the allied powers. This approval is expected within several weeks

FOUR WOMEN ARE NAMED FOR HOUSE

Three Are Candidates on the Democratic Ticket and One on Republican.

Four women who ran for legislative nominations in last Tuesday's primaries were successful, according to the returns. Three of them are democrats and one a republican. Miss Sarah Muir of Lincoln was defeated, but these other women were nominated for the house:

Ada C. Wortman, Lincoln, democrat, in the 32nd district.

Mrs. Clara S. Paine, Lincoln, democrat, in the 36th. (This is the district where Miss Muir failed of nomination on the republican ticket).

Alice Brooks Hastings, democrat, in the 69th.

Etta B. Reese, Broken Bow, republican, in the 80th.

There are a few women nominees also on the progressive ticket, but it is not likely that any of them will have a chance of election.

Among the legislative candidates who won in the primaries are these:

For the senate—

17th district—W. A. Fellers, Chester, rep.; William Grueber, Byron, dem.

20th district—Charles F. Allen, Cozad, rep.

For the house—

4th district—William Moore, Nemaha, dem.

54th district — George Landgren, Shickley, dem.

80th district — M. E. Schneringer, Callaway, dem.

SEEK ACCOMPLICE OF MRS. PHILLIPS

Believed Woman Had Help When Alleged Love Thief Was Murdered.

(International News Service.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 21.—With the date of the trial of Mrs. Clara Phillips for the hammer murder of pretty Mrs. Alberta Meadows definitely set for September 18, prosecution and defense were busy today preparing their cases.

The fact that a 150 pound rock was found resting on the dead girl's torso after she had been attacked with the hammer gave rise to the question in both prosecution and defense circles as to whether there was more than one person involved in the slaying.

A. Phillips, husband of the accused woman, said today that he believed the slayer of Mrs. Meadows must have had an accomplice.

Phillips also said he did not believe his wife could have bested Mrs. Meadows in an equal fight. Phillips denied today the report that Joe McGuire of Tulsa, Okla., had married Mrs. Phillips in 1921. Investigators were seeking information from all available sources today concerning the murder. One neighbor to the Phillips said that for ten days before the crime Phillips had practically ignored his wife and that they were virtually estranged.

CURTAIN DROPS ON HOT FIGHT

Texas Campaign, In Which Klan Figures, Closes In Texas.

(International News Service.)

DALLAS, Tex., July 21.—With Ku Klux Klan and anti-klan affiliations playing a huge factor in one of the most bitterly contested primary campaigns ever held in the state of Texas, closing campaign speeches were made today at different points by most of the candidates.

Senator Culberson is seeking to succeed himself. He has declared himself as opposed to the klan.

The principal candidates for the senatorial nomination besides Culberson are C. F. Thomas, an outstanding prohibitionist; Earl B. Mayfield, present state railroad commissioner; ex-Gov. James E. Ferguson, supporter of organized labor, also favorable to the amending of the Volstead law to permit sale of beer and light wines; Clarence B. Owsley, assistant secretary of agriculture at Washington during the Wilson administration, and R. L. (Bob) Henry, an ex-congressman.

Henry, all during his campaign, has openly announced that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan, and says he believes a member of the klan should sit in the United States senate.

For the gubernatorial nomination, Gov. Pat M. Neff is opposed by Fred S. Rogers, running on a farm-labor union platform; Harold Warner, for years a prominent newspaper editor, who entered the race late, and W. W. King, a farmer running "on his own" also seek the governorship nomination.

Death of Mexican Bandit Confirmed

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Mexican embassy today received official confirmation of the killing of the bandit leader Gorozabe, who captured forty American citizens near Tampico, holding them for ransom. Dispatches to the embassy from Mexico City said Gorozabe was overtaken by federal troops and killed during the fight which ensued.

Lock-Jaw Victim May Yet Recover

Johnny Burbach, 12, lock-jaw victim, living at 641 Vine street, was reported as resting easier Friday, with a good chance for recovery. The boy contracted lock-jaw as a result of puncturing his foot with a thorn about a month ago. Dr. E. A. [illegible] is attending him. Johnny was removed to the Lincoln hospital Sunday.

CARRIERS OFFER TO MAKE PEACE WITH EMPLOYES

B. & O., and Southern Railway Ready to Negotiate Separate Agreement.

Union Heads Meet to Decide Attitude On Proposal By Railroads.

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, July 21.—Whether the striking shopmen will make separate peace with individual railroads or insist on a blanket settlement will be decided, it is expected, at a meeting today of the executive council of the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor.

The Baltimore & Ohio and the Southern Railway have expressed willingness to negotiate with their employes for an adjustment of the controversy.

B. M. Jewell, strike leader, and his executive committee, will meet here today, and it is believed will decide whether to sanction or oppose individual settlements with various roads. If decision is reached to negotiate with the roads individually it is believed other railroads will follow the lead taken by the Baltimore & Ohio and the Southern.

Trackmen In Session

Much interest was manifested here today in the meeting of the grand lodge of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employes in Detroit, which is expected to decide that union's attitude toward the strike. Advices received here declared that E. F. Grable, head of the brotherhood, is confident that no strike of this organization will be ordered.

Officials here today refrained from comment upon the report from Washington that a conference between heads of leading railroads and members of the senate interstate commerce committee called to discuss the strike, had ended with refusal by the railroad executives to consider demands made by the shopmen as a basis for settlement.

One grievance of the unions is believed to have been eliminated and the position of the United States railway labor board strengthened by a decision of the United States District Judge Page, the appellate court decreed that the labor board is more than an advisory body and held that it has authority to protect the interests of the union.

Injunction Set Aside

An injunction granted by Judge Page restraining the board from prescribing methods of procedure by the Pennsylvania railroad in the selection of employe representatives to negotiate new working rules was set aside. Judge Page had ruled that the board had no authority to prescribe the manner in which the election should be held. The appellate court upheld the board's authority.

Union leaders have contended that the railroads will not obey the rulings of a board that is merely advisory. The decision of the appellate court restores some of the prestige of the board that waned as a result of Judge Page's ruling.

Division chairmen of the railway clerks' union will meet in Chicago Monday for a conference on the phases of the strike effecting that organization.

Puts In New Rate.—The state railway commission Friday made an order upon the complaint of Herman Krueger and other patrons of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company residing between Malcolm and Garland. These have been paying $2.25 per month for Lincoln zone service with Garland added or had the option of paying $2 per month for Garland exchange service, including Malcolm. They wanted to cut out some of the Lincoln zone and have both Garland and Malcolm a reduced rate. The commission has made a rate of $1.75 per month for the Malcolm and Garland service, the Lincoln business to be on a messenger basis. Patrons are also allowed to exercise the old options.

Candidates Tell What They Spent In the Primary

EQUITY NO. 425
ORDER

Now on this 20 day of July, 1922, this action came on for decision upon the application of the plaintiff herein for a preliminary injunction, the Court having heretofore heard the pleadings and evidence and arguments of all parties and being well and fully advised in the premises; finds that the plaintiff's motion for preliminary injunction should be sustained.

The Court further finds that immediate and irreparable injury, loss or damage will result to the plaintiff in that there will be great loss and destruction of its property, wrongful and unlawful interference with the conduct of the plaintiff's business as a common carrier of interstate commerce and of United States Mail, and that plaintiff will be prevented from performing its duties under the Interstate Commerce Act and other Federal Statutes applicable to railroads; that there will be personal injury and loss of life to plaintiff's employes unless the preliminary injunction of this court be issued, and for all of which injuries and wrongs, there is no adequate remedy at law; and for said causes and reasons, the Court finds that it is necessary that the preliminary injunction of this Court issue herein;

IT IS THEREFORE CONSIDERED, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the defendants named herein and any and all other persons in active concert or participating with them and all persons associating or acting with them in the so-called strike of the members of the six federated shop crafts named, and all members of the associations or brotherhoods, defendants herein and all other persons who are within the District of Nebraska, having notice of this order, BE AND THEY ARE HEREBY COMMANDED AND ENJOINED:

1. To absolutely desist and refrain from in any manner interfering with the free use and occupation by the plaintiff of any and all of its property or premises of every kind or character.

2. From interfering with, hindering, obstructing or stopping any of the business of complainant or any part thereof.

3. From in any manner whatsoever, by use of threats, injury, suggestions of danger or threats of violence of any kind, interfering with, hindering, obstructing or stopping any person engaged in the employ of the plaintiff, or any person desiring to enter its employment in connection with its business for the operation of its lines or railroad in the District of Nebraska.

4. From inducing or attempting to induce or compel by threats, intimidations, force or violence or by the fear or suggestion of danger, any person so employed or desiring such employment to refuse to perform any of the duties as employes, if employed, or to enter such employment, if they so desire.

5. From interfering with the employes of said complainant in going to and from their daily work and from either singly or collectively going to the homes of said plaintiff's employes or any of them, for the purpose of intimidating them or coercing any or all of them to leave the employment of the complainant, and as well from intimidating or threatening in any manner the wives and families of said employes, in furtherance of said purpose.

6. From protecting, aiding or assisting any person or persons in committing any or all of the aforesaid acts.

7. From assembling, loitering or congregating upon, about or in proximity to the shops, round houses depots, tracks, yards or other premises of the plaintiff at Omaha, Gibson, Plattsmouth, Nebraska City, Havelock, Lincoln, Wymore, Ferry, Alliance, Seneca, Ravenna, Aurora, McCook, Red Cloud or Bridgeport or elsewhere in the district of Nebraska, for the purpose of doing or attempting to do any of the aforesaid acts.

8. From maintaining at or near premises of the plaintiff or on or near the streets leading to the premises of the plaintiff, any representatives more than one for all of the defendants or persons in active concert or participating with them at each point of ingress to or egress from the plaintiff's property, premises or places of business. Such single representative aforesaid shall have the right to observe and communicate to those entering or leaving the property or premises of the plaintiff and persuade such persons, but are hereby enjoined from making their communications to such persons in an abusive, libelous or threatening manner or from obstructing any unwilling listener by persistent following or accompaniment.

9. From congregating or loitering on the property or premises or in the immediate neighboring streets by which access is had to the property or premises of the plaintiff under circumstances where the natural or probable consequence of the same would be in any manner to aid or abet any of the acts of conduct enjoined by this order, or to interfere with the plaintiff's business.

10. From doing any act or thing whatever in furtherance of any conspiracy or combination among them or any of them to obstruct or interfere with complainant, its officers, agents or employes in the free and unrestrained control and operation of its railroad and the conduct of its business.

11. From defacing, tearing down or in any manner or way mutilating any copies of any writs issued or posted hereunder.

12. From sending by United States Mail, messenger or otherwise or by telephone communication any threatening, insulting, indecent or anonymous message or communication to any of plaintiff's employes or any members of their families in furtherance of any of the acts herein prohibited.

13. From cutting, puncturing, severing air hoses, opening angle cocks on train lines or in any other manner tampering with the train lines or air connections on any car on plaintiff's railroad in the district of Nebraska and from placing material or substances of any kind into the journal boxes of any car or cars on plaintiff's railroad in the District of Nebraska.

The Plaintiff, having given a bond in the penal sum of Ten Thousand Dollars, condition according to the law, this order BE AND THE SAME HEREBY MADE immediately effective and is to continue in effect until the final determination of this case or the further order of this Court.

Notice of this order must be taken by all parties, defendants named herein, and a copy of this order shall be posted in one or more of the plaintiff's shops in this district and a copy hereof shall be published in the Omaha World Herald, Omaha Bee, Omaha Daily News, Lincoln Star, Lincoln State Journal and one Newspaper published in Plattsmouth, Nebraska City, Wymore, Dakota City, Aurora, Alliance, Hastings, McCook, Red Cloud and Bridgeport, all in Nebraska, and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERER THAT THE Marshall shall mail to each of the former employes of the plaintiff now out on strike a copy of this order; the names and addresses of said former employes to be furnished by the plaintiff, and the said Marshall is hereby authorized to direct and commission a sufficient number of deputy marshalls to make this order in all respects promptly effective and to continue the same in effect until the further order of this Court.

To all of which the defendants severally except.

Done the day and year first above written.

Wanted Mourning Dress to Affect A Murder Jury

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 21.—Mrs. W. A. Osgood, a costumer, furnished a surprise late Thursday in the trial of Mrs Madalynne Obenchain for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy by telling of dealings she had had with Kennedy and his father, J. D. Kennedy.

The elder Kennedy, Mrs Osgood declared, came to her place, during the first trial of Mrs. Obenshain and asked for a mourning costume for his wife.

"I asked him whether he wanted it for a movie or for a funeral," the witness said "He replied: 'I am Mr Kennedy, the father of the young man who was killed in Beverely Glenn. My wife is to testify today and her trunks have not arrived. I want her to look as mournful as she did in the trial of Arthur Burch, for it makes a good impression on the jury.'"

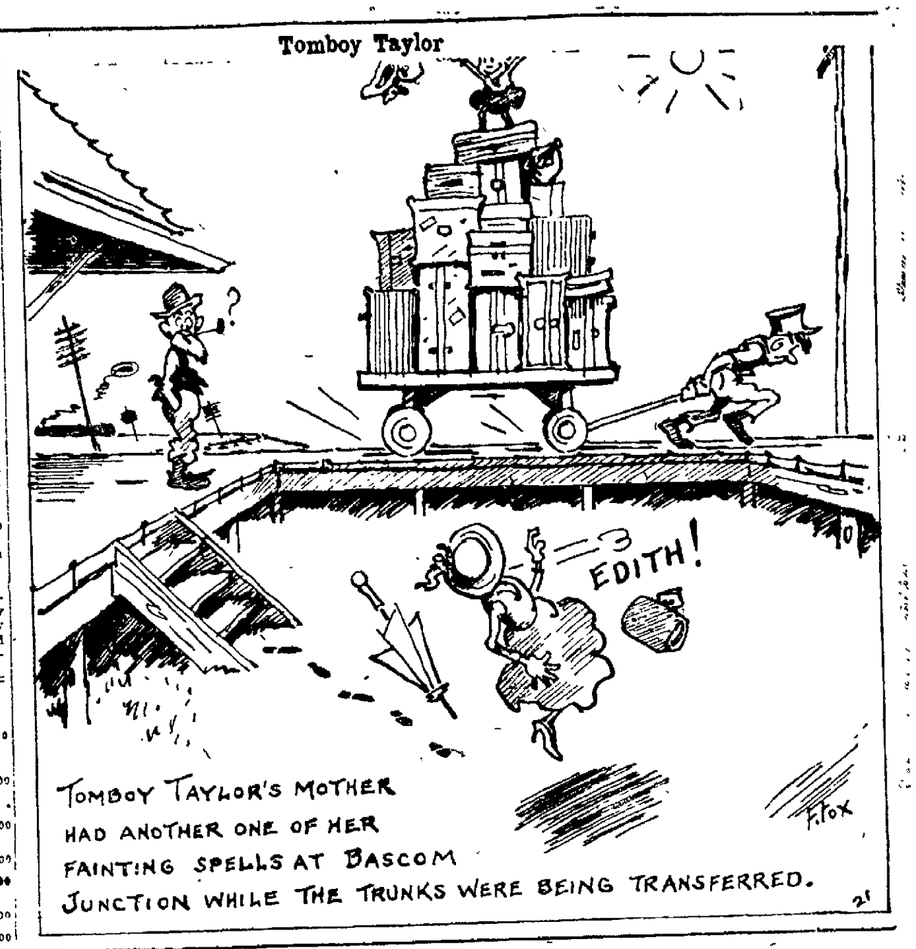

Mrs. Osbood said she told Mr Kennedy she had no costume of the kind he wanted.

Mr. Kennedy had denied that such a conversation took place.

Governor Davis of Ohio, has ordered national guard troops now mobilized to proceed immediately into the coal mining districts and also ordered additional units mobilized.

The finest complexion treatment is the simplest

Here it is:

Most women have, and take great pride in having, normal skin—differing, perhaps, in texture and in ability to resist various conditions of life and weather, but normally healthy.

For such skin, the highest authorities agree that the finest complexion treatment available is the simplest—soap-and-water cleansing.

This old-fashioned, but authoritative, fact may save you trouble, and pain, and even the loss of the good complexion you now have.

To millions of women "soap-and-water cleanliness" means "Ivory-Soap-and-water cleanliness."

As any reputable physician will tell you, soap, whatever claims may be made for it, can do for your skin only one good thing—cleanse it safely.

That is the duty, the privilege and the destiny of Ivory Soap—to cleanse safely. Through forty-three years it has made no other claim.

Ivory Soap must cleanse, because it lathers abundantly and rinses off completely and promptly.

It must cleanse safely, because it is made of the very finest of pure ingredients, blended to produce a pure, mild, white and delightfully fragrant soap—which floats.

When you buy Ivory, you are asked to pay only for pure soap, which contains no "mysteries" and offers no "magic" except the soothing magic of cleanliness.

Julia, maid of maids, is as concerned as if the blouse were her own, instead of Sally Jollyco's. Its delicate crêpe is faded and torn. Sally washed it herself, with soap of her own choosing.

"Oh, and I warned her, Mrs. Jollyco. But she wouldn't listen."

"I know, Julia," says Mrs. Jollyco. "Miss Sally is one of those who learn only by experience. Perhaps next time she will use Ivory. Then she won't have to rub, and there will be no fading or tearing."

Side out on a triple play! The Professor notes this thought: "Clean bodies make keen minds." Well, if Bobby keeps on resisting soap, we don't know how he is going to be a famous shortstop—even with the help of his canine friend, Ulysses.

"Why, Sally Jollyco!" cries Miss Tippit, the family nurse, "What's that Mrs. Prowl doing in here?"

"Now, Tippity, you go right away!" says Sally. "Mrs. Prowl says this new soap will keep me beautiful."

"Oh dear, oh dear! And after I brought you up so careful on Ivory Soap, too!"

Poor Sally! She has a terrible time, doesn't she? But Miss Tippit is right—soap keeps one pretty only by keeping one clean. Ivory does that, and gently, too!
